Diefenbaker Promises Labor 'New Deal'

Moves Into Quebec For Major Speech

NEWCASTLE, Ont. (CP) — Progressive Conservative Leader John Diefenbaker Friday night promised a revision of the federal labor code and an investigation into farm prices as he prepared to move into Quebec for the third day of his cross-country federal election campaign.

He spoke in this village east of Toronto after making a "tea and cakes" tour through the Niagara Peninsula.

Tonight he will make a major address at Quebec City, in the province where his party possesses only four of the 75 federal seats.

Mr. Diefenbaker said a Conservative government would eliminate prolonged delays in labor conciliation procedure and provide legislation for minimum wages, hours of labor and vacations with pay for all workers. Unemployment insurance benefits would be broadened.

FLEXIBLE PRICE SUPPORTS

His party's agriculture program he said, would include a system of flexible price supports, aggressive salesmanship around the world for Canadian farm products and an early Commonwealth trade conference.

The Opposition leader promised an immediate investigation into the difference between prices paid by consumers and those received by farmers. Between 1951 and 1955, he said, the farmer's share of the consumer price dollar dropped from 59 cents to 51 cents.

'MYSTERY' RCN GUNFIRE STARTLES VICTORIANS

Exaggerated by atmospheric conditions, night firing practice by units of the RCN Pacific Command Friday boomed across Juan de Fuca Strait, and started a flood of inquiries from disturbed citizens.

Dampness of the air enabled the sound to carry clearly from the firing area, in the vicinity of the San Juan Islands.

The navy termed the firing "night illumination exercises." Star shells were used.

Firing was carried out about 11 p.m. by the frigates HMC Ships Sussexvale and Ste. Therese. Flares were dropped by aircraft at 10 p.m. from the RCN Patricia Bay Squadron, VU 33.

They were bound for Seattle on a weekend training cruise with reserve personnel from HMCS Malahat aboard.

The firing promoted a real mystery for several hours during the night because navy sources at first said it was not being done by Canadian ships. However, later they explained that the shooting was a routine exercise announced in naval orders several weeks ago.

Pipeline Purchase Proposed by CCF

Purchase of the Westcoast Transmission Co. natural gas pipeline by the government-owned B.C. Power Commission was called for by the provincial CCF executive Friday at the party's annual convention.

Urging firmer government control of natural resources, the executive recommended that the "Power Commission be strengthened to make it the province's principal power agency."

The executive said the future of the Columbia, Fraser and Yukon Rivers and their headwaters should be determined jointly by B.C., Canadian and American governments through a general agreement for the use of the waters, and not dealt with piecemeal.

A better forest management program in the province was also demanded.

SPLIT EXPECTED

Divisions in party thinking were expected to appear today at the convention when resolutions critical of the new Winnipeg Declaration came up for consideration.

Representatives of the strong leftist faction within the party are asking in resolutions a return to the pure Socialism of the 1933 Regina Manifesto.

The Friday evening sessions was given over to addresses by three federal CCF members: Colin Cameron (Nanaimo), Herbert Herring (Kootenay West) and Thomas Barnett (Comox-Alberni).

Each of the MPs gave their support to one or another Liberal government project or policy.

Mr. Cameron, speaking on external affairs, said the CCF was in agreement with the for-

HIRED GUNMAN TO DO JOB

Psychiatrist Reneges On Self-Murder Plot

DETROIT (AP) — A fantastic plot was described to police Friday night by a Detroit psychiatrist who said he hired a gunman to kill him and then called the deal off.

Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber said the man Dr. C. L. R. Pearman hired to slay him was an undercover patrolman assigned to the case.

Dr. Pearman, former resident in psychiatry at Wayne County (Detroit) General Hospital, was taken into custody at a reserve officers' party at the Grosjean naval air station after failing to keep the appointment in his office in a downtown Detroit building.

River Ravages 2,500 Homes In Texas City

DALLAS, Texas (UP) — The rampaging Trinity River rolled into the homes of 2,500 persons here today.

Nine days of almost unparalleled bad weather continued without a break. A tornado destroyed a barn and ripped down half a mile of power lines at Robstown, Texas, west of Corpus Christi on the coast.

Thunderstorms, floods and tornadoes have killed at least 10 persons in Texas in the last nine days and have caused millions of dollars' worth of damage. Agricultural damage alone was estimated at between 25 and 30 million dollars.

The Trinity, normally a placid stream that a man can wade across, was 40 feet deep today but was expected to begin receding by nightfall.

Long Convoys Seen on Roads

From United Press

Syrian troops have begun moving out of Jordan, travellers arriving at Beirut, Lebanon, reported today. Long convoys of tanks, trucks, armored cars and anti-aircraft guns were seen on roads leading north from Jordan to Syria.

The convoys included one of three Syrian regiments which have been stationed in Jordan since last October's Israeli attack on Egypt.

It was not known whether other units would follow. Meanwhile advance units of the United States 6th Fleet have reached East Mediterranean waters, informed sources in Cyprus said. In Jordan, the firmly established pro-western government announced that military courts will try persons accused of plotting against King Hussein and the country. Cairo radio said 964 persons, including former premier Nubisi, had been arrested since martial law was imposed.

U.S. Denies Russ Warning Note

Other developments included: Cairo and Moscow radios stepped up their propaganda barrage against King Hussein. Moscow Radio accused him of collaborating with "American imperialism." Cairo Radio was equally critical.

The Egyptian newspaper Al Gomhouriya said the Soviet government had sent President Eisenhower a note warning against intervention in Jordan. But at the vacation White House in Augusta, Ga., presidential press secretary James Hagerty denied that any such note had been received, "either in the White House or the Department of State."

While the fear of Jordan dismemberment had abated in western capitals, special interest centred on a meeting at Mecca among King Saud of Saudi Arabia, Syrian President Shukri El Kuwaty and Wing Commander Ali Sabri, chief political adviser to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Saud had been a firm supporter of King Hussein, along with Hussein's cousin in the Hashemite dynasty, King Faisal of Iraq. One report said Saud had wired congratulations to Hussein.

In Amman, the Jordan capital, where the situation was reported quiet, a government spokesman said a number of Jordanian Communists had fled over the border to Israel to Division.

Tottenham Clinches Second Spot

LONDON (Reuters)—Tottenham Hotspur defeated Blackpool 2-1 today to clinch second place in the First Division of the English Soccer League on the last Saturday of the season.

Manchester United, which clinched the league title earlier, won its next-to-last game of a triumphant season 3-2 over lowly Cardiff. Next week, United meets Aston Villa in the finals of the Football Association Cup, English soccer's world series, in an attempt to capture a rare double crown.

Preston North End blanked Chelsea 1-0 to be certain of third position in the First over the border to Israel to Division.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Dear Lord, source of all life, I look up to Thee for this day's needs. Make me sufficient for life's sudden demands, an upset in plans, a shattering disappointment, the onrush of temptation, the swift rise and fall of fortune. Having begun this day with Thee, may I keep all channels open for the tides of spiritual power so that I might at all times be steady and unafraid; in Christ's name. Amen.

Socreds Claim

The Social Credit candidate in Vancouver Centre riding has accused the federal government of failing to safeguard Opposition interests in the upcoming election.

Cyril White said he will consult with CCF and Progressive Conservative officials on the possibility of conducting a joint door-to-door canvass of the constituency to check the voters' list.

"I feel that we must do this because we have been deprived of our right to appoint enumerators to safeguard Opposition interests in the compilation of the Centre-voters' list," Mr. White said.

After wiring a protest to Ottawa earlier in the week, the Social Credit candidate has been supported by Progressive Conservative candidate Douglas Jung and CCFer J. W. Dennison.

Tory MP From Calgary Speaks Here

Douglas Harkness, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Calgary, will address a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Conservative Association Wednesday in the Monterey Cafe.

Col. Harkness is coming to Victoria to attend the Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative nomination convention Tuesday night at Royal Oak Hall.

He will speak at the invitation of Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, who is not expected to have any opposition for re-nomination.

Gen. Pearkes plans to begin his speaking tour of the riding May 6 at Port Renfrew. He will speak in View Royal May 9 and other dates will be announced later.

A number of local Conservative officials will attend a meeting of all provincial candidates and officers in Vancouver Saturday.

A general membership meeting of the Conservative Victoria riding will be held at campaign headquarters at 623 Yates on Monday at 8 p.m.

Jean Paul St. Laurent, campaigning in B.C. for the Liberals, said in Dawson Creek Friday night the Social Credit party is building its entire policy on a false impression. That is that Social Credit will be welcome in Eastern Canada, he said.

Mr. St. Laurent, son of the prime minister and a member of the last parliament, said the Socreds rally in Toronto last week was a failure, not the success it was claimed to be. Since the Liberals came to power in 1935 the prosperity of Canada has increased to a high level, he said, but if Social Credit came to power this prosperity would decline.

Chamber Asks 4-Year
College Arts Course

A special committee of the Chamber of Commerce will prepare a brief urging the senate of the University of British Columbia to support the extension of the liberal arts course at Victoria College to four years.

The committee is a report to the chamber directors Friday, felt "no insuperable difficulties existed to prevent Victoria from having a liberal arts college within the next five years."

But the report said there was a need to convince the senate of UBC that there is civic support for a university course at Victoria College.

It added that the present college enrollment justified the extension of the liberal arts program from two to four years.

The committee, headed by Capt. G. R. Newell, will prepare a brief outlining Victoria's case for an extended liberal arts course. It will be presented to Dr. Norman MacKenzie, UBC president.

The chamber's university subcommittee was set up two months ago to study plans for the expansion of Victoria College.

It has discussed the matter with Dean Geoffrey Andrew, UBC; Aubrey Roberts, assistant to the president; Arthur Sager, president of UBC Alumni Association; and H. F. Angus, former dean of the faculty.

"I thought there were only nine, but I just happened to remember three more," he told authorities.

Yemm, 47, seemed to recall that he divorced two of his wives.

"Another one, Corinne, I think, called up one day and said she was getting a divorce," Yemm said. "Do you suppose that counts?"

Assistant state's attorney Patrick Egan said Yemm's marital adventures pose a problem.

"We can't figure out which of all these women was his legal wife," Egan said. "And we've got to know that if we're going to prosecute him for bigamy."

Yemm was tripped up when he tried to marry again. The new woman in his life became suspicious and asked police to check.

Detectives uncovered a virtual harem, including Yemm's current spouses, the former Beverly Simms, 31, a typist, and the former Wilma Pyzik,

Helmcken House
Gets Modern
Fire Alarms

The B.C. government is taking no chances with venerable Helmcken House, behind Thunderbird Park, following the destruction by fire of the first legislative building (the Birdcage) last month.

Tirm, white-fronted Helmcken House, built by Dr. J. S. Helmcken in 1852, is now being fitted with a super-duper fire alarm system that will bring the fire engines thundering down the moment any sparks fly.

If the Birdcage had been similarly equipped, it would probably still be standing today.

The alarm system at Helmcken House works by air pressure, so that if there is a sudden rise in temperature—by as much as 10 degrees—it will set the bells ringing in local fire halls.

An air pressure tube no more than three-sixteenths in diameter runs around the ceiling and walls of the aged house and is guaranteed to register any sudden heat caused by flames.

"We are now considering extending this system to other government buildings," Percy W. Mackereith, superintendent of works for the B.C. government, said today.

WORTH WHILE

"It is a system that has already proved its worth in many Victoria buildings, including the new B.C. Electric premises on Pandora."

Helmcken House, by far the oldest private residence in British Columbia, was bought by the provincial government for preservation as an historical museum in 1939.

It is closely associated with the early history of the province, as Dr. Helmcken was the first magistrate appointed in the old Crown Colony of Vancouver Island.

SPEAKER

He was also Speaker of the House of Assembly of Vancouver Island, which first met in 1856, holding office until Confederation in 1871.

Dr. Helmcken carried on a private medical practice at Helmcken House and continued living there until his death in 1920 at the age of 96.

He built the now famous house for his bride, Cecilia, daughter of Governor Sir James Douglas.

Governor Douglas had already built on the south side of the bay, the first house outside the fort. His son-in-law, Helmcken, received an adjoining acre so that the two families would have mutual protection against any Indian attacks.

Thousands of tourists visit the old house every year and the visitors' book contains signatures from all parts of the world.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me why the Friday before Easter is called "Good Friday?"—F.B.R.

A.—The term is probably an early English corruption of "God's Friday." It was called "Long Friday" by the Anglo-Saxons and the Danes, possibly in allusion to the length of the services which marked the day.

Marrying 'Yoo-Hoo' Counts Again

—Latest Wife Total Adds Up to 12

CHICAGO (UP)—An unofficial recount indicated today that Walter (Yoo-Hoo) Yemm, an energetic businessman, had 12 wives.

"I thought there were only nine, but I just happened to remember three more," he told authorities.

Yemm, 47, seemed to recall that he divorced two of his wives.

NORMAN NOT ISSUE
He promised the Norman case would not become an issue in the election, as far as the CCF was concerned.

He also supported the federal government's fiscal policy and said there had been "a remarkable amount of nonsense about a tight money policy that does not exist."

Mr. Herridge, explaining the CCF stand on Columbia River development, said he thought the Ottawa offer to contribute about $300,000,000 for a federal provincial public power development could be "one of the greatest major developments in B.C."

The Columbia River could supply power to all southern B.C. for the next 10 years if properly developed.

MAJOR FLANK

Mr. Barnett said a major plank in the CCF federal campaign should be compensation coverage, or unemployment, for persons who are forced off their jobs through illness.

Earlier Friday, Provincial Leader Robert Strachan and president Alex Macdonald indicated a major provincial issue might be the proposal by Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren to develop 40,000 square miles of land in the Rocky Mountain Trench.

Both men said the scheme was "a give-away" and would not give the benefits of natural resources to the people of B.C.

Membership in the party increased 17.3 per cent during the past year, secretary-treasurer Harold Thayer reported.

The party realized a total of $46,800 in 1956, he said, with $17,800 going to local campaign committees and $13,100 to the provincial campaign in the election.

Convention
Bureau Backed
For Victoria

A report recommending that a convention bureau be set up under the joint auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Victoria Publicity Bureau was endorsed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday.

The report was submitted by a special chamber committee appointed to study ways to attract the lucrative convention tourist trade to Victoria.

"Studies made to date indicate that convention business looms ever larger in the tourist picture," the committee reported. "In the United States there are some 39,420 conventions held annually."

The report noted that U.S. convention delegates in a year spend more than $3,500,000,000 in transportation, food, lodging and entertainment.

It was felt that the most practical way to attract some of the convention business to Victoria would be through the formation of a convention bureau which would work solely to attract and service conventions in Victoria.

Test May 10

An "explosion"—on paper only—will highlight a local Civil Defence exercise May 10-11.

The 23-hour exercise will begin at 2 p.m. May 10, when civil defence organizations across the nation will swing into "Exercise Cooperation," dealing with a theoretical atomic attack on Canada.

CD headquarters will be moved from Victoria to Saanich, where staff operations will be headed by Roger Peachey, Victoria co-ordinator, Val Godfrey, deputy co-ordinator, and Frank Burrows, chief instructor.

The explosion will take place somewhere in Victoria but "we won't know what will happen until it does," Mr. Godfrey said today.

To get the most out of the exercise, officials will be kept in the dark until the "actual bombing" occurs, he said.

Direct teletype communications will be set up between each provincial CD headquarters and the federal control centre at the Canadian Civil Defence College in Arrnprior, Ont.

'Sabotage' Blast Rips Through Strike-Torn Town

MONT-LOUIS, Que. (CP)—Long-smouldering labor troubles on the Gaspé Peninsula erupted Friday when an explosion ripped open a big oil storage tank owned by the strikebound Gaspé Copper Mines Limited.

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

By DINAH KERR and IRVING STRICKLAND

QUESTION: "Do you think the Sasquatch will be found on Vancouver Island?"

Mrs. Lydia Arsens, 1427 Thurlow: "Well, I have thought it rather strange that if there is such a living creature we haven't found it by now. We must all be asleep. There's a possibility it might be found in the rugged north of the Island, but I think these people have just seen some poor hermit running about."

H. W. Sparks, insurance broker, 2081 Windsor: "No, I don't think there's any evidence of Sasquatch on Vancouver Island. You might as well be chasing a ghost as one of those things."

Percy Cliff, printer, 447 Standard: "There's no such thing. It might have lived hundreds and hundreds of years ago, but not now. It's just somebody's dream. I think everyone should stop drinking or we'll all be seeing things."

Jack Sedgwick, tire changer, 3261 Eldon: "No, I think it's a lot of bunk. There possibly is something like that but not here."

Stella Harper, secretary, 1549 Pearl: "I guess there's as much chance of finding it here as there is around Hope. If they can do it, so can we. I believe in Sasquatches — they're probably like those big animals in the Himalayas."

Mrs. L. M. Kinnersley, 2950 Humpback Road: "I guess there could be such a thing. There are still plenty of wild parts on Vancouver Island. It would be nice to find a Sasquatch in time for the centennial year."

The blast, which followed on the heels of an encounter between striking workers and a 60-man detachment of provincial police, ruptured the 4,500,000-gallon tank and spilled out the contents. The tank was about a quarter full.

Provincial police said the explosion was caused by dynamite and Mount-Louis police chief Didore Boucher called it "a plain case of sabotage."

HALT PICKETING

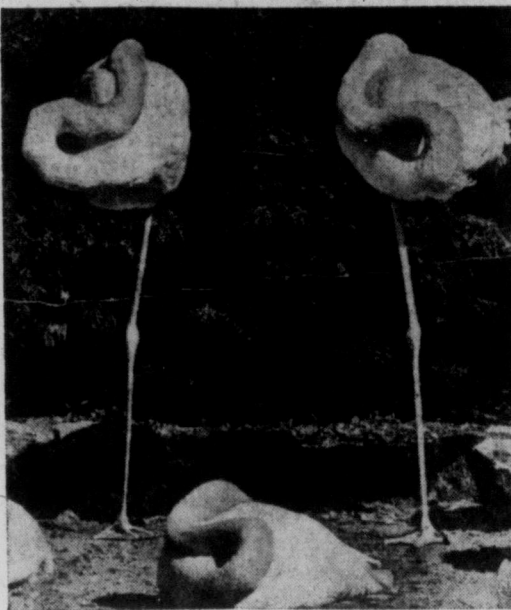

Mount-Louis is the shipping port on the St. Lawrence River for the copper mining town of Murdochville, 35 miles south, where members of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) have been on strike for almost seven weeks. The provincial police squad arrived Thursday night and halted all picketing in Murdochville.

Damage was estimated at $150,000 in the explosion which Mount-Louis Mayor Horace Lemieux said jarred the community of about 1,700 at 3 a.m.

Chief Boucher said a major fire was averted because the fuel is very thick and burns only at a temperature of 160 degrees Fahrenheit. No buildings were damaged and there were no injuries.

Although everything was quiet after the blast, Chief Boucher said he is "worried there might be further incidents."

In Quebec, the attorney-general's department announced a "serious investigation" has been launched.

Seattle Police Stop Teenage Gang Battle

SEATTLE (AP)—Police confiscated switchblade knives, lengths of rubber hose and wooden clubs taken from a crowd of 30 teenage boys assembled at a junior high school Friday night for a gangfight.

Seven boys ranging in age from 14 to 16 were booked at the city jail.

Several police units were stationed near the high school after receiving reports from adults that the boys from the junior high and West Seattle planned a gang fight at 8 p.m.

Officers said some 30 boys arrived on schedule but many fled when they saw police, abandoning weapons as they ran.

Police said a minor fight involving boys from the two areas earlier in the day was believed to have touched off plans for the mass battle.

St. Laurent Launches Campaign on Monday

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent faces a work-packed day when he arrives here Monday to launch the Liberal party's campaign for the June 10 federal election. Manitoba has 14 seats in the House of Commons, with the Liberals holding seven.

Party organizers have planned a large welcome at the Union Station, with the first hour of his visit to be spent meeting civic officials from Manitoba centres.

From the moment he arrives, there will be little let-up in the prime minister's schedule of receptions, campaign discussions, climaxed at 7 p.m. with a speech at the civic auditorium—his first of the campaign.

After the speech, the prime minister and his party will leave by train for Edmonton where he will speak Tuesday night.

Ontario First

A NEW AND IMPORTANT ELEMENT has been added to the national election campaign. The whole power of Premier Frost's organization in Ontario is thrown behind Mr. Diefenbaker and the Conservative Party. What this will mean in terms of Ontario votes no one can foresee but the major issue on which the Conservative campaign is to be built has now emerged clearly.

It is an old, familiar and vital issue—the national versus the provincial governments. Mr. Diefenbaker, to assure the support of Premier Frost, announces himself as the champion of the provinces against what he calls a rapacious Government in Ottawa.

The provinces and their municipalities, he says, must have more money. He does not add the obvious corollary that this money must come out of the pockets of the taxpayers, nearly all of whom live in the provinces.

One might suppose, from Mr. Diefenbaker's opening speech at Toronto, that a settlement of the long tax struggle between national and provincial authorities could be arranged overnight by a friendly conference. He will call such a conference, if he is elected, and adjust everything right away "in a spirit of unity, amity and with mutual tolerance and respect." It is as easy as that.

Actually the Federal Government has been trying since 1941 to reach a fair agreement with the provinces in the division of revenues; it is turning over a large part of its tax collections to the provincial governments and most of the provinces are satisfied.

Ontario, however, is not satisfied. Premier Frost, like Mr. Drew before him, regards the taxes collected by the Federal Government within its boundaries, and then turned over to the poorer provinces, as Ontario money which Ontario has the right to control. In fact, it is Canadian money to be spent as Parliament decides.

If the Federal Government is to transfer more of its revenues to Ontario it will be compelled either to collect more taxes from the nation at large including the Ontario taxpayers or it must reduce its subsidies to the poorer provinces, or else spend less itself.

Mr. Diefenbaker is not proposing that the Federal Government spend less itself. He demands drastic increases in federal expenditures. He would raise the old age pension by amounts which he is careful not to specify. He would subsidize the whole farm industry out of the federal treasury by a system of farm price supports which has produced chaos in American agriculture.

Nevertheless, after promising large new subsidies to the provinces and other increased federal expenditures, he promises drastic tax reductions.

None of these proposals is spelled out in figures, of course, because the figures would not add up. There can be no doubt, however, that the Government's existing revenue surplus—an essential weapon against inflation—would be quite insufficient to provide anything like Mr. Diefenbaker's increased expenditures and reduced taxes. His unspecified budget is a budget of heavy deficit, certain to foment inflation. Since Mr. Diefenbaker also attacks high interest rates his major policy is soft money.

If his drive for more inflation makes no sense in arithmetic and economics, it may make votes in Ontario, where all his hopes are centred. He has earned Mr. Frost's support by appealing to Ontario's parochial interests (or its supposed interests). He has condemned the "centralizing" policies of the Federal Government while demanding still more centralism, in the form of increased federal services and such things as farm subsidies. And on this assortment of contradictions he expects to make gains in the great central province. Perhaps he will.

But a policy designed primarily to benefit Ontario and assist Mr. Frost may sit ill with the rest of the nation.

Help for the Mentally Sick

CANADA WILL START THE OBSERVANCE of Mental Health Week tomorrow. During the ensuing seven days special attention will be drawn to different factors in this illness which disables more people than tuberculosis, cancer and polio combined.

The Victoria Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association hopes that the week will encourage people of this community to subscribe generously to the financial campaign now in progress.

The authorities state that Canada has not nearly enough hospital beds, enough equipment for effective treatment, enough detection and prevention clinics, enough psychiatrists, enough psychiatric nurses and social workers, enough research, or enough public understanding of mental illness.

To provide the facilities and experts for treatment substantial funds are required. A dollar from each citizen would go a long way to meet the needs. And those needs are very real—appalling real when it is remembered that one family in every five will suffer from mental illness or emotional disability.

But it will not be enough to dismiss the issue with a donation—essential as contributions are. It is necessary, also, to give thought to this form of affliction—thought and study which will make it more understandable in its different forms.

In recent years a great deal has been learned about cures for mental illness. In some hospitals 60 per cent of the victims of one of its most crippling forms are being cured and discharged within 12 months after admission.

Techniques are improving. Symptoms, alcoholism among them, are being more widely recognized by the general public. The road ahead is hopeful. But funds are needed if further progress is to be made.

Before Squeezing the Trigger

THE WIDELY-PUBLICIZED Sasquatch campaign has produced something useful.

It is a story from William Roe, 66, who says he raised his rifle and drew a bead on a creature near the timberline in country close to Tete Jaune Cache. When he took it to be a Sasquatch, he did not fire.

This is a precedent for which safety men have been looking. They now have a slogan for the next hunting season: "Don't shoot that other hunter in the woods. It may be a Sasquatch."

Alberta Sees No Federal Future for Socreds

From The Calgary Albertan

OPENING of the Social Credit party's eastern Canada election campaign with a big rally in Toronto reveals more glaringly than ever that when it comes to federal politics the party has less than nothing to offer the people.

National leader Solon Low got up and told his audience that if elected June 10 Social Credit would cut income taxes 30 per cent and boost old age pensions to $100 a month. The party would dump the tight money policy, ensure long-term, low-interest loans for housing and implement hospital insurance all across the country.

In other words, the tired political promise that Social Credit would tax less and spend more with the inescapable conclusion that Social Credit would be quite happy to see Canadians hit by a really runaway dose of inflation.

B.C.'s Premier Bennett was even funnier, in a frightening sort of way. He stood up and said that Canada is "withering and struggling under a strange, experimental bondage that threatens disaster . . . on many fronts." This "bondage" is being imposed by a "tired old system of government that has long ago lost the common touch."

What on earth can one suppose he means by that business about Canada "withering and struggling" when the country is enjoying the greatest period of growth and prosperity in its history, a growth and prosperity that shows no sign of slackening despite an inflationary threat which the present government has taken sound steps to halt?

And what is this "bondage" about which he talks? Mr. Bennett does not elucidate but we have a strong suspicion that the eminently conservative B.C. premier is hinting at the bondage of banks and other financial institutions, the bogey that has always loomed so large in Social Credit philosophy.

Mr. Manning was careful to say that Social Credit is "not a funny money scheme or a movement of irresponsible radicals out to destroy and disrupt the established institutions" which is the official line of the party. However, we wish that he had been able to go a little further and spell out just what the Social Credit monetary program would be if the party was ever called on to form a government.

If Social Credit has abandoned its "funny money" plans then what was Mr. Bennett talking about? And what did Mr. Low mean when he wrote to the party's Vancouver South nominating meeting last week a letter in which he said: "You may be sure that the Social Credit leaders have not in any way abandoned or watered down the Social Credit theory?"

As Our Readers See It

Turkey!

I was horrified to learn that the Victoria branch of the Royal Society of St. George celebrated St. George's Day by eating turkey and drinking toasts in water.

Horror! If the branch wants to increase its membership it should serve nothing less than steaming roast beef and good English ale, as is customary in the Old Country.

What, No Radar?

Cartoonists, like poets, undoubtedly enjoy a certain "licence," but does that extend to history?

In your issue of Wednesday, the "Mayflower" is depicted as flying the Union Jack, a flag not in existence for more than a century and three quarters after her original voyage.

Also, one of the characters depicted is apparently grasping a telescope, an instrument not yet in general use in 1620, and it is very doubtful if the "Mayflower" even had one aboard.

Why did your artist not complete his modernization by adding a smoke-stack and a radar screen?

Pensions—Who, How Much?

In view of the fact that one of the major issues of the coming election centres on the question of old age security allowance, and especially as one of the proposed platform planks of the Social Credit Party advocates a federal pension of $60 per month, together with a federal-provincial bonus of an additional $40 a month, would it be possible to obtain detailed information from any source on these questions?

1. What is the number of pensioners in B.C. obtaining the federal pension?
2. What is the number of pensioners in B.C. obtaining the provincial bonus and the total amount paid?

3. What is the amount reserved by the provincial government's sales tax which is used exclusively for old age pension security bonus?

4. What is the number of recipients of the provincial bonus and the amounts paid in each of these four categories: (a) From $1 to $5 monthly; (b) from $5 to $10; (c) from $10 to $15; (d) from $15 to $20?

Since everyone shares in the taxes for the above benefits surely we ought to be able to receive accurate information as to the amounts involved. Are figures available for 1956? If not, for 1955?

"ENQUIRER."

Facing Reality

Mr. H. V. O'Reilly's letter of April 24 captioned "Tuning to Science" should not be brushed lightly aside, especially if—as he states—"Modern youth wants to face reality with minds freed of myths, legends and illusions" as they start where the ancient Greek philosophers left off.

We owe much to ancient Greece; even evolutionists for many centuries believed with Aristotle that fleas, worms, mice, dogs and lower forms of life sprang up spontaneously from moist Mother Earth.

When Greeks turned to Christianity, they unfortunately brought into the early Christian Congregation their national "myths, legends and illusions."

The Apostle Paul linked their philosophy with empty deception and the Apostle Peter termed it artfully contrived false stories.

Webster's dictionary gives one object of true philosophy as being to enlarge our views of God and His work and quotes "True religion and true philosophy must ultimately arrive at the same principle."

And One Piper

As a "Trumpet Prelude" towards Social Credit aspirations in the forthcoming federal election the garbled gabble or "garbled garble" offered by the Premier of B.C. during his Toronto speech was astounding. The strange utterances, emetic sentences and repetitious phrases that prefixed every frenzied pronouncement induced one to believe that Mr. Bennett was "delivering" under panicked duress.

I thought on Ruskin and Chaucer, Disraeli and Churchill; I recalled: "Man proposes but someone else disposes!" As a "listener" I had time for this!

Whatever can Toronto think of our mode of speech in B.C.? It was a pathetic pattering out of the "strong man" publicity that brought out a solitary piper to welcome the arrival of B.C.'s Premier in Eastern Canada.

The Peasants in Their Cadillacs

PERHAPS the strangest, the most moving and mystical sight in Canada can now be seen along the main highways of Vancouver Island. The road builders have been chopping down the roadside trees and the local inhabitants have been cutting them up and carrying them home in their automobiles for fuel. Thus Canadian civilization completes an historic circle and returns to the primitive frontier. A rich city man leading sticks of cordwood into the trunk of a seven-thousand-dollar Cadillac is an exhibit to make any historian pause.

Hutchison

THE late Will Rogers once said during the great depression, that the United States was the only nation on record which drove to the poor-house in an automobile.

Happily the depression is long behind us, but we can boast on Vancouver Island that we are the only people on record who used a costly automobile (and probably a mechanical saw worth the price of twenty cords of wood) to transport half a cord and warm our modern, oil-heated houses for a month or two.

By the laws of economics this process makes no sense at all. By the laws of human nature it is one of the few sensible things left on earth. The philosopher's faith in our species will be restored, partially at least, when he observes a creature who fills the atmosphere with nuclear poisons, hasn't the sense to come out of the radio-active rain but still drives forth into the wilderness and gathers a few faggots for his fire.

HE lights the heavens with another kind of fire, he prepares a general conflagration to consume the labors of five thousand years but in all this lunacy he still knows and loves the old-fashioned flame in his evening's fireplace. Even in this age of progress a spark of intelligence remains.

At any rate, we arrive by circuitous routes, and in modern vehicles, back at the same point where our grandfathers stood in this land fifty years ago.

They entered the woods in a wagon, drawn by two horses, to gather fuel. We enter them in a vehicle driven by two hundred mechanical horses, for the same purpose. They cut the trees with axe and saw powered by two human hands. We cut them with a saw powered by gasoline.

BUT in all essentials the process has not changed—except that the pioneers could get all the wood they needed at low cost whereas the richest man in British Columbia, Canada's greatest for-

Mounting Toll

From The Baltimore Sun

THE group of insurance companies which makes an annual report on automobile casualties in the United States has just published its figures for 1956. It lists Americans killed at 40,000 and those injured at 2,368,000. That means that, at the present rate, one person in every 70 in this country may expect to be an automobile casualty.

As in previous years the report punctures the popular belief that defective cars are responsible for this appalling total—a belief that has resulted in obligatory inspections in some states and a perennial proposal for one here in Maryland.

According to the report, in 96.4 per cent of the fatal crashes the automobiles were apparently in good condition. In more than 85 per cent of them clear, dry weather prevailed. On the other hand in 43.5 per cent of the accidents resulting in fatalities and in 41.5 per cent of those in which persons were injured, speeding was put down as the cause.

The conclusion of the report is that the fault lies with the driver, who regulates the speed, rather than with the car which merely responds to the driver's will. This suggests that if legislation can do anything to reduce the toll from traffic accidents it should be directed at the driver rather than at the car.

The insurance company report, by the way, does nothing to refute the discovery claimed by the automobile authorities in Connecticut (a State which has cut down on its casualties) that while a driver feels no compunction about risking the lives of his family through speeding, he will slow down to keep from losing his licence.

est area, can hardly obtain, with any amount of money, enough fuel to light up his living room.

The trees are required for more important purposes, such as the newsprint on which old-fashioned reporters like me record their memories of richer days before we achieved a high standard of living and a low standard of fuel.

A FEW years ago, in France, I observed the government's workmen cutting down trees beside the roads, carting the trunks away for precious lumber but leaving the smaller branches to the peasantry. Women from the villages marched out with their kitchen knives to cut the branches and haul them home in perambulators.

That seemed to me a pathetic sight, unthinkable in British Columbia. Now the same thing is happening here, with slightly better tools and conveyances.

In foreign eyes it is indeed pathetic to see a Canadian millionaire reduced to the status of a French wood cutter, cranking the trunk of his limousine with logs and probably breaking the springs, but spare your tears.

Most likely a Sunday spent in this wholesome exercise and humble harvest is the only moment of happiness that the rich man will know in the whole week. In all probability this is the most useful thing he will ever do.

HE is salvaging the nation's wealth, usually wasted in the past, he is salvaging his own health and even preserving the last remnants of his sanity. At last he has found some use for his own muscles, some purpose for his machine and some warmth for his soul.

In Thoreau's famous phrase, he warms himself twice, in the cutting and then in the burning of the wood, but in a land and age unknown to Thoreau, he warns himself the third time, inwardly, by the sudden knowledge that he is still a man, able to do a man's work. Don't pity the rich wood cutter.

If I were in charge of the government (which seems unlikely at the moment) I would provide wood lots at convenient points where every citizen could cut wood freely, provided he cut it himself without paid assistance, preferably with axe and hand-saw. Then we would have not only a healthy population but a true democracy. There is nothing like wood cutting to cut all men down to size.

WHEN WE WERE VERY YOUNG

By GUS SIVERTZ

A Great White Ship Standing Out to Sea

IT was just sixty-six years ago today that an excited crowd of men and women standing on the Rithet Wharf and lining the roadway in front of the smart Dallas Hotel saw a sight that none probably ever forgot.

They were all staring at Race Rocks and excitement mounted—as the time approached for the first Canadian Pacific Empire liner to swing hard astarboard and turn into the Royal Roads. Offshore small craft and rowboats cruised around waiting for the great moment in which S.S. Empress of China would show her white clipper bow around the Race.

Sivertz

Suddenly the beautiful ship was there, creaming through the placid waters with a fine "bone in her teeth," and her stays bravely decked out with every flag and pennant in her lockers and a grand plume of smoke billowing aft from her two funnels.

It was a breath-taking sight—as, indeed, it always was so long as these magnificent vessels were afloat.

It would be nice to be able to write that I was one of those who witnessed the arrival of the first of the three "Queens of the Pacific" which were to hold an unchallenged place in the hearts of all trans-Pacific passengers for three decades. But, by an unhappy chance, I was unborn at this time and it was about ten years later that I saw my first Empress and immediately fell in love with her.

The three regal sisters followed one another quickly into service and it might not be entirely amiss to recall a few facts about these remarkable ships.

They were the Empresses of China, Japan and India—practically identical triplets—of 5,940 tons, 445 feet in length at the water line, and 485 feet at the deck line because of the long clipper-type bowsprit and a stern much like that of the later iron windships.

Three masts (on which sails could be set), two fine stacks and gracious deck-houses gave these smart ships the appearance of stately pleasure yachts. Indeed the Empress of India won the sobriquet of "Marshall's yacht" because her first skipper, Captain O. P. Marshall, kept his lovely vessel in yacht-like condition from stern to stern.

Faster Ship

All three had a fine turn of speed and were designed to cruise at 15 knots but for some reason never understood, the Empress of Japan was able to out-sail her sisters. She set a record for trans-Pacific crossing with an average speed of better than 17 knots and established a record time of 10 days and three hours that stood for 17 years.

This holder of the Blue Ribbon was under command of a famed shipmaster who still lives in Vancouver, Captain Samuel Robinson. It was a fine thing that many years later "Sammy" Robinson's square-set, sturdy figure stood on the bridge of a more modern 27,000-ton Empress—of Japan—when she first steamed under Lions Gate Bridge into his home port.

In her long and useful life the Empress of Japan made 158 return passages across the Pacific and logged more than two million miles before she was broken up at North Vancouver in 1922.

Her sister, Empress of India, older by a few months, was sold in 1915 to the fabulously wealthy Maharajah of Gwalior who then equipped the vessel as a hospital ship and presented her to the Empire.

Precious Cargoes

These ships carried only about 110 first class passengers and about 350 Oriental steerage, but they also freighted across the ocean very precious cargoes in their holds in the form of hundreds of bales of silk. So valuable was the time element in the silk run that a train would be waiting alongside as the ships docked and the bales would be rushed aboard the cars to be whisked off to New York at passenger train speed.

Well, I have seen a great number of ships since I used to sit on a bollard on the old Rithet Wharf (now, of course, the Ogden Point piers) but I have seen none that could compare with them for beauty and sheer grace of line.

There are many fine ships afloat, and I feel that a good ship is one of man's finest creations, but so many are utilitarian in design and some look like floating apartment houses with high ugly stacks puffing out diesel fumes.

The Empresses possessed every attribute of loveliness and when one of them would stand out to the open sea with a broad wake creaming astern it would leave me filled with an unutterable yearning and for the moment, as loquely as a gull.

Gods Vs. Giants

SOME time ago this column did a piece about the High Court of Parliament, stressing its judicial function. A more familiar aspect of this august assembly is the legislative one, and since rumor hath it that gentle readers, in common with the other inhabitants of this country, are shortly to set about electing a new Parliament, this column feels it is high time it offered some disinterested advice on the problems that will soon beset them.

—8th Century Terracotta—
SILENUS

As everyone knows, Parliament is composed of senators and members, as well as the Governor-General. Senators are insulated from the tohubohu of politics, and the Governor-General is above it. Which leaves us common ruck of electors with only the members of the House of Commons to deal with.

The House of Commons, of course, is where the real power of Parliament resides. Consequently the responsibility to common people in electing the members of this House is a very real and a grave one.

By a historical accident (the shape of a room), the House of Commons has come to consist of two opposing forces facing each other across a rectangular chamber. The one with the most elected members sits on the right of the Speaker and governs the country through its leaders. The group across the way criticizes, advises and objects to measures which it feels are not in the national interest.

In this way, we have achieved a stability in our government which other legislative systems can only acquire by good fortune. Semi-circular chambers, such as are seen in most republics, inevitably lend themselves to the grouping of members according to subtle shades of opinion, ranging from Right to Left. With us, either you're out or you're in, and the Government knows where it stands. Splinter groups in the Commons can accomplish nothing.

The opposing forces have in the course of time crystallized into modern political parties. In Canada, in case you have forgotten, the two parties are the Liberals (who are in) and the Conservatives (who are out). Just to make it interesting, the Liberals, having been in power for a very long time, are conservative, and the Conservatives, since they are perforce in the position of a reform party, are liberal. Get it?

The thing to remember is that both parties are composed of ordinary, reasonably orthodox people. Neither of them have any fancy theory or brand new packaged panacea. Where they differ is in their approach to the problems of government; and since the problems do not change by simply being looked at, how else can they differ?

Right now, the opposing force principle of the constitution is being put to the test by a very noisy splinter group from the West. We all know what it is, and this column, having a higher regard for the intelligence of its fellow common people than that certain noisy minority, is quite confident that the principle will stand up as it has always done in the past. The reason for this column's confidence is as simple as A plus B: (oops! that isn't simple, it's unreal), or rather ABC.

The people in Eastern Canada take their politics seriously; by far the greatest number of members are returned by the people of Eastern Canada: so? Can anyone who has ever lived west of Lloydminster disagree with the obvious conclusion?

Far be it from this column to say how any gentle reader should vote. People are too young on the subject, for some reason. Its own opinion is that the Liberals have been in too long for their own and the country's good. All this column would like to know is that when next June's election is over, no one of the small band of discriminating persons who read it has wasted his vote on any little regional splinter group whose chances of influencing anything are exactly nil.

WIFE, CHILD SAFE IN CANADA

Refugee Returns ---Hangs Himself

MONTREAL (CP)—Laszlo Vertes, 32, one of a group of Hungarian immigrants who returned home after coming to Canada, hanged himself Monday in Budapest after being arrested by the secret police, it was reported here today.

Vertes first urged his wife and child to join him but later instructed them to stay in Canada. He left here for Budapest about a month ago.

Larry Hayes, secretary-treasurer of the Hungarian Relief Fund here, said he did "everything" to convince Vertes to remain here.

"I warned him it was stupid to think you could raise your hand against the Russians and then be forgiven. Vertes was sure things would be better. He said he would be much better off financially in Hungary because he owned a house there."

Vertes was one of about a dozen Hungarian refugees to return to their homeland, which they fled during or after the October revolution. Their return to Hungary stemmed from language and job difficulties here.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Habit of Under-Statement

LONDON—A well-known broadcaster here by name Geoffrey Boumphrey has been trying to get to the bottom of the Englishman's propensity for understatement. He quotes the story of two men walking to their club in London one evening. "Lovely sunset, isn't it?" said one. The other glanced at him uncomfortably and replied: "Even if it is, there is no need to rave about it like a blooming poet."

There are other stories illustrative of the English habit of understatement that come to mind. There is that classic about the explorer who was telling an American about an incident in darkest Africa when a Zulu plunged a spear into his chest and he was pinned to the ground for three days and nights before being rescued. "Good gracious!" said the American. "Didn't it hurt?" "Oh, no," replied the Englishman, "only when I laughed."

In Italy during the war the story went that the commander of a British battalion was briefing an officer about an attack on Cassino. For months the Americans, Poles, Indians and numerous other troops had been hammering away at Cassino without avail and the toughest objective was the railway station in the centre of the town.

"I want you to take your men," the commander said to the officer, "and see whether you can work your way into the town and establish yourselves on the railway station."

"Very good, sir," said the officer. "Any particular platform?"

Boumphrey says that it is a popular theory that it is inverted conceit which lies at the root of the Englishman's understatements. "But I am convinced it is not conceit, as it is sometimes thought to be," he claims. "It is a sort of shyness, a fear of embarrassment. We regard the inscrutable expression which certain Oriental people are said to preserve in all circumstances, and we admire them very much for their self-control. It does seem hard that our own efforts in the same direction, whether in reserve behavior, or in speech, as understatement, should be construed as conceit or, even worse, lack of feeling."

He points out that the British are a painfully shy race, on the whole, and they particularly dislike any show of emotion. The only exception is when watching certain sports—football and boxing, for instance. Then they let themselves go. Perhaps that is one of the reasons why sport is such an important element in British life—it is one of the few outlets the English allow themselves for pent-up emotion.

"As a general rule," says Boumphrey, "the Briton strains every nerve in what he considers a dignified way. From earliest childhood the British are taught that it is bad to boast of their personal achievements; there is a strong taboo on conceit. When in the centuries that lie ahead, the value of the British contribution to world history comes to be assessed, speaking as a Briton I can say that we should be more than delighted to think that the verdict might be 'not bad.'"

Research into possibility of left by plane to attend the an-executive of the association in Instituting a band tax law in nual conference of the national Waterloo, Ont.

British Columbia will be undertaken by a committee from the B.C. Chapter of the Canadian Bandmasters' Association.

As interpreted by Howard Denike, secretary-treasurer of the B.C. Chapter, such a law allows any city or town in Ontario to place a plebiscite before the citizens, and on an affirmative vote, to allocate a tax portion toward support of community and youth bands.

First annual meeting of the chapter was held recently in Victoria, when a constitution was adopted and several projects for the year discussed.

CHAMBER BAND

The chapter plans to bring the University of Washington Chamber Band to Victoria for a concert sometime during 1957. Director of this highly-skilled organization is Walter Welke, who is well-known in Victoria as an adjudicator and lecturer.

Among those present at the meeting was the national vice-president, Vernon Newlove of Edmonton.

Subsequent to the meeting, president of the B.C. Chapter,

BOOK TALK By JAMES SCOTT

Author's Purpose Fails In Recreating Dire Deed

Literally one of the weightiest books I have read this year is Meyer Levin's novel, "Compulsion," which goes on for almost five hundred closely packed pages about two youngsters in Chicago who committed a horrible crime and were brought to trial in a spectacular case which involved the greatest trial lawyer North America has ever known—the late Clarence Darrow.

The case, in real life, was of course the celebrated Leopold and Loeb murder case of 1924. Mr. Levin was, at that time, a cub reporter on a Chicago daily newspaper and actually knew the two teenagers who were involved. Apparently the case has been on author Levin's mind ever since and in this gargantuan novel he has attempted to recreate in fiction the factors which went into the shocking crime. Psychology has made great strides since the early twenties and it is possible that Mr. Levin's account today more accurately explains what actually compelled these two boys to their dire deed than any of the evidence which was brought out at the trial.

— Scott

Fascination of the Abnormal

Certainly, the event itself was law found guilty and condemned stranger than fiction. Two youngsters, the sons of multi-millionaire families, kidnapped a small boy, son of another rich and prominent family, obliterated his identity and sex before hiding his body and then attempted to extort a ransom from his distraught parents.

We are more hardened to crimes of sex violence than we were 30 years ago, but the case is still a shocker and so is Mr. Levin's attempt to recreate what actually went on with the two murderers.

There is no doubt that in the events which the author imagines might have occurred there is the fascination of the ugly, the brutal and the abnormal. These, as any psychiatrist knows, exercise a powerful fascination for many people. Perhaps this justifies using such a theme as this in a novel, but I would like to make the case for the opposition.

TIFFINATES EVIL

Maybe I'm a stodgy and old-fashioned party but it seems to me that the elevated aim which Mr. Levin claims in his preface—"I hope that it may be of some help in widening the use of available knowledge in the aid of human failings"—could much better have been achieved by a clinical analysis of the factors involved, and written for use by experts, rather than by developing a fictional case which, no matter whether it is accurate or not, has in it the power to titillate evil.

Now, of course, I know that almost any kind of book (including some of the greatest and finest ever written in our language) can do this. I am many times on record against any action which would prevent the publication of any such material simply on these grounds.

GOOD CRAFTSMAN

No, that is not what I mean. Rather the situation is this: Mr. Levin is a very good craftsman with considerable narrative skill. He knows quite a lot about human behavior and I think he is a man with a conscience.

Why then resurrect a case which has strong associations with sensationalism, with a purulent public mind, and with the fact that the culprits were by due process of law chosen to design one of the U. N. issues. Samples of his work may be seen on three of the current Canadian stamps—20c, 25c, and 30c.

Although the new British West Indies Federation will group all these scattered islands into one political entity, there is a possibility that they will continue to issue their own individual stamps as at present. It will be recalled that the various islands of the Leeward Islands Federation each retained their own stamps, even though a set inscribed "Leeward Islands" was concurrently available for use anywhere within the group.

The reason for this multiplication of issues can probably be blamed on stamp collectors, whose dollars are a tempting source of revenue to these little colonies.

On the other hand, most philatelists would be loath to see these romantic Caribbean possessions lose their identity, for their stamps have had an honoured place in their albums for the best part of a century.

THE STAMP CORNER By REG NAIRNE

The latest of Canada's "Wild Life" series, depicting the common Loon, is one of the most artistic stamps we have had for some time. The design is simple and pleasing, and the rich full black in which it is printed (a pleasant contrast to the faded grey-black of the dollar stamp) makes the most of it.

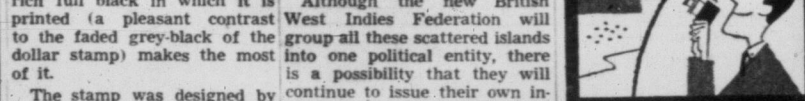

The stamp was designed by Lawrence Hyde of Montreal—the same artist who was responsible for the "Outdoor Recreation" quartet. One can only say that his latest effort is an immense improvement over these disappointing emissions.

As most collectors know, the United Nations have their own postage stamps. Recently they issued a new commemorative honoring the World Meteorological Organization. It was designed by A. L. Pollock of Toronto. This is the first time a Canadian artist has been

Less Impact Found In Remarque Novel

THE BLACK OBELISK, by Erich Maria Remarque. Harcourt, Brace.

Erich Maria Remarque's latest novel probably is an important contribution to contemporary Germanic literature. But it does not quite come off in English translation as worthy successor to "All Quiet on the Western Front."

The scene is post-war Germany in 1923, days of rocketing inflation and reviving nationalism. The central character is a 25-year-old veteran who would be a writer.

The problems, try as the author might, do not seem to be as universal as those with which Kat and his crew wrestled in "All Quiet." And the curious counter-story — Ludwig's strange love for a beautiful maniac whom he woos within the confines of an asylum—obscures the unity of the book.

Ludwig parallels many of Remarque's own post-war experiences as schoolteacher, part-time organizer, hack writer, and tombstone salesman, and many are realistically portrayed. Probably a German reader would appreciate the account of the death of the old empire order and the birthpangs of that misguided nationalism which finally whelped the Nazi Germany of Hitler.

Look how easy it is to enjoy our State of WASHINGTON

...and share our many natural wonders!

One of the beauties of the state of Washington is that it is not difficult to enjoy her beauties! It's amazing how much ground you can cover, how many interesting places and things you can see, in a little time.

Glance at the map above. Those "grid" lines, both horizontal and vertical, are scaled 50 miles apart. Just about a normal hour's drive. For example, the drive from our Southern boundary to our Northern boundary is a matter of about six hours driving. With Seattle about midway. In the other direction, across the state, it's a matter of say eight hours. And almost every hour, in either direction, brings something to intrigue your interest, perhaps challenge your imagination.

Because of its size this map has been somewhat "skeletonized." We couldn't spot all the points of interest and keep it legible. But we have this map in considerably larger size and several colors. It visualizes quite clearly just how easy it is to enjoy, not a few, but many of our natural and man-made wonders within the limits of the average vacation.

Let us send you a copy, won't you? It's embodied in an illustrated folder which we call "Only Hours Apart," and we think you'll agree that they can be golden hours! Give us your name and address on the convenient coupon below.

MAN'S MIGHTIEST HANDIWORK!
The Grand Coulee Dam, a masterpiece of might and magnificence! The Dam measures 4,900 feet in length and pushes the mighty Columbia River back 151 miles to form Lake Roosevelt.

TYPICAL OF MANY!
This scenic delight, Mt. St. Helens, thrusting its head 9,671 feet above Spirit Lake, is typical of many lake-mountain vistas throughout the state.

Kogan Performance Confirms Rumor

By HUMPHRY DAVY

Brahms violin concerto published in 1878 is a good example of what time will do for music. When the work was first released by the composer, soloists fought shy of it. It was dubbed a concerto too difficult for violinists to perform.

Today this work stands in modern popular favor with the concertos of Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Elgar and Sibelius. Every skilled soloist now includes it in his repertoire.

This brings up the question of whether soloists today are more competent or confident than their counterparts three generations ago. Brahms concerto is not an easy piece to perform but not beyond the reach of highly trained musicians. If records had been perfected 60 years ago, it would have been possible to make a comparison.

Davy

orchestra should sound like on a record, an Angel recording of Sibelius symphony No. 1. It is a first-class example. Here is sound faithfully reproduced—as good as it can be on vinylite.

Conductor of the symphony is Paul Kletzki, who recently made a series of recordings of the symphonies of Schumann. The conductor Jackles this work with gusto—he makes the music glow.

This, incidentally, is a good symphony to start with for anyone not too familiar with the works of the composer. After a few hearings of this work, you will want to try his other symphonies.

POPS LIBRARY

"Manhattan Monodrama" is a serious work by the young pianist-composer, Alonzo Levis. It is a seemingly discordant tone poem about Harlem and serves as a bridge between avant-garde jazz and chamber music.

Selected singles—"In My Own Little Corner," by Peggy King (Columbia), "Hard Head," by Tom Thomas (Mercury), "The True Story of Jesse James" and "Poor Jesse," by Frank Gorshin (Liberty) and "My Love Song" and "Ring-a-Ding-a-Ding," by Tommy Sands (Capitol).

Calyso of the week—"Gumbay," a dozen calypso songs recorded by Beacham Coakley's Emerald Beach Hotel in Nassau (Decca). Recommended to calypso fans.

Having completed his 16th annual tour of the U.S., Claudio Arrau, pianist, is touring Europe. This year he plans to play in Spain for the first time in 20 years—one concert, in Barcelona, May 6.

HANS GRUBER CONDUCTS

Defiant Dedicated Toscanini Outwitted Fascist Mandate

On March 25, Arturo Toscanini would have been 90 years old. His recent death brought to a close a conducting career without parallel. It spanned a full 60 years, during which Toscanini became a living legend. Purely musically, he was the most discussed and influential conductor for decades.

More recently, to this was added the fact that he also became something of a physical phenomenon, retaining his full capacities and activities until the age of 87, when, much against his will, he was made to retire, officially. Unofficially, he continued conducting the NBC Symphony Orchestra for nearly another year, subjecting himself to the strenuous recording sessions.

World famous he has long been, as mentioned. Yet, curiously, that unquestioned supremacy ascribed him originated not in Europe, but in America, where he began his continuous symphonic activities at the age of 70. In Europe, he was by many regarded as no more than an authority on Italian opera, and an evil-tempered one at that! In the classic symphonic literature he was unfavorably compared—wrongly so, in my opinion—with Furtwaengler.

Only Non-German at Bayreuth

There was a time when but one unfilled ambition remained to him; namely, to conduct at the Wagner Festival in Bayreuth. In 1932, he became the first and only non-German conductor to be invited personally by Wagner's widow to come to Bayreuth. What happened that season at Bayreuth became musical history.

The invitation was repeated in 1933, when, however, Toscanini went to Bayreuth only long enough to tell Cosima Wagner that he would not be available in Germany so long as Hitler was around.

This was but one measure of Toscanini's character; years before he had already suffered physical violence at the hands of Fascist hoodlums for refusing to conduct the Giovezza, the Fascist anthem which replaced the original Italian one.

In 1930, when Toscanini took the then incomparable New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra on a European concert tour, he again declined to open the Rome concert with the Giovezza.

Whatever conflicting opinions there may be concerning Toscanini's way with the classics, in one basic way his salutary influence cannot, and should not, escape any other conductor active today, and of whatever age.

It was Toscanini who restored the composer to his rightful starrole at concerts, having struggled all his life for the strictest adherence to the printed score, as opposed to personalized "interpretations" not indicated by the composer, and having proved beyond possible argument that that was the best way to make music.

Toscanini, the most legendary of public musical performers, was essentially the humblest of servants to the composer.

'Tunnel of Love' On Stage and Film

A special deal has been worked out by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to finance an independent film production of "The Tunnel of Love," a new stage-comedy by Joseph Fields and Peter de Vries which the Theatre Guild opened on Broadway in February. The play is based on a best-seller novel of the same name by Peter de Vries.

The movie version will not be started until the New York stage engagement is ended.

Fields last September organized Joseph Fields Productions, Inc., and entered into a financing-releasing deal with United Artists to make a movie of "Anniversary Waltz," a play written by Fields and Jerome Chodorov. "The Tunnel of Love" will mark the second film for Fields company.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Program Planning Guarantees Interest

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

For any person who is at all interested in music, dance and the speech arts, the Greater Victoria Music Festival, scheduled to be held May 7 to 15, offers much pleasure, much information and even a likely percentage of "thrills."

There are often performances that go far beyond expectation, or close and stimulating contests. Humorous incidents, words of wisdom, new listening experiences, are daily occurrences at almost any session.

From a few people who have not visited a festival in more recent years, one hears the complaint that multiple repetitions of the same set piece by young candidates, kills interest through boredom. But even this complaint is largely eliminated now because of the policy of allowing "own selections" in many classes. In junior piano, suites of small pieces are set and the competitor may perform any two or three as the case may be.

Evening programs this year will be held at the United Church Fellowship Hall on Balmoral Road, with exception of the final grand concert and the folk dance display which are to be given at Central Junior High School.

VARIETY
A typical evening program will include "sing-offs" of two or three competitors from important vocal solo classes; senior piano class finals and top choral contests.

Special programs are folk dance finals on the evening of Wednesday, May 8, at Central Junior High School; honor performances by leading school choirs on Friday evening, May 10, and the final concert, May 15, when B.C. Electric rose-bowl vocalist and Victoria City medalion piano winner will be judged.

All in all, it strikes me that no musically-inclined person could possibly get more from the expenditure of a couple of hundred pennies than the owner of a festival season ticket does.

TRICKLES AWAY

Any time you go down town you can fritter away that much and have nothing even mildly worthwhile to show for it. If you think about it you'll see what I mean—two bits for a bunch of daffs that will have gone into limbo day after tomorrow; a like here and there for an ice cream, soft drink or chocolate bar that are in your mouth a couple of minutes and on your hips a couple of months.

Probably four to six bits for some gadget or novelty that you don't need and will have lost interest in almost as soon as you get it home.

How much better to pour those loose pennies into a solid little investment that will enrich your experience at the same time that it helps the young and the gifted members of this community.

When measuring a room for carpeting, multiply the number of feet in the length of the floor by the number of feet in the width and divide by nine. This will give the square yardage necessary.

BEASTALL ADVISES

Leaf-Loss Serious Matter For Pest-Denuded Plants

How we long for the first feed of rhubarb in the spring, and how often we are disappointed because the flavor is so sharp. This early sharpness, even in normally sweet varieties, is present because the leaves have not yet expanded. The work of the leaves is to manufacture sugars, a process which is not carried out until they have developed.

When rhubarb stalks are left until the leaves have added their contribution, a much sweeter product is obtained.

While a leaf more or less is of little importance to the gardener, it is quite important to the plant which has just produced just sufficient to suit its requirements.

Peach leaf curl, for instance, is not one of our more serious diseases, yet the yearly reduction of leaf surface caused by the disease will gradually weaken the tree, sometimes to the point of death.

BERRIES IN DANGER

Current and gooseberry bushes need close watching at this time of year. Today they are clothed in good foliage and blossoms appear plentiful, but in the next few weeks many bushes will have been stripped by caterpillars.

The annual defoliation is very bad for the plants. Spraying with any of the good fruit insecticides is well worth while. Doing this just before the blossoms open, and again as soon as they are over, seems about right under my conditions.

Leaf loss on roses is usually due to the rose slug and the black spot disease, and can be reduced by regular spraying throughout the season with one of the combined insecticide-fungicide rose sprays. All rose growers know the difference in quality of blooms which come from bushes with healthy foliage.

A half-dozen tents of caterpillars have appeared on the ornamental fruit trees during the past week. These are another cause of leaf loss and it pays to check their depredations.

In the years that only a few tents are present, I much prefer removing them by hand to spraying a lot of poison around.

The activity of earwigs has noticeably increased since mid-April, and these are another cause of leaf loss. Earwig bait scattered around the spots they haunt will lessen the number of hungry youngsters looking for food just as the vegetable seedlings emerge.

The fish-oil bait is undoubtedly the best control. It can be purchased locally in both small quantities for the home garden and in bulk for larger holdings. It is essential to use it while fresh, for then it is a sound investment at this season.

A. Several perennials flower in early fall from a sowing indoors in February. Delphinium, gaillardia, the dianthus known as "Loveliness", penstemon and viola are a few. Providing the plants are in good soil, no ill effects are seen from this flowering. It also enables the gardener to discard at once any plants of undesirable color or habit.

Q. Can you tell me the name of a small tree which is flowering now before it has leaves? The flowers are large, and have pinkish marks on the outer petals. I have been told they are known as tulip trees, but I doubt whether this is their correct name. Mrs. M. S., Cedar Hill.

Races End In Pin Loops

By GRAHAM COX

There's not much left of the winter bowling schedule with all but one of the major city leagues deciding champions last week. The sole holdout came in the Senior Tenpin League at Gibson's where Kings Hotel assured themselves of at least second place by taking the second half of the league.

They will bowl off for the number one spot Tuesday when they meet Willshire Heat, first-half winners.

In the Commercial Tenpin loop, Shaw Sheet Metal gained the handshakes when they held onto a 47-pin edge to nip Tilliecents' 2888-2841 in the roll-off final for league honors. Third and fourth place were settled last week when Princess Mary gained third and Lucky Lagers came out fourth.

In the consolation round of the league it was HBC squeezing past Victoria Press 2819-2800. Con McBeth was the difference in the metalworkers' league win when he paced the league and the team with a fine 606 (213, 203) score. Other Commercial League scores were C. Bennett 557 (801), O. Corbett 556 (207), Dick Donaldson 547 (200), Bill Walker 546 (228), W. Templeton 544 (210), R. Harris 549 (216), and D. Shaw 547 (202).

Ted Bower set the pace for the Senior Tenpinners when he rolled a 597 (219, 201) series to be followed by Jack Bacon 571 (200), Jack Hobby 557, H. Hazard 568 (221), R. Wilson 548 (201), B. Coates 553 (205), Bud Marty 573 (202), Herb Chandler 552, Nip Sage 565 and Bob Bysted 586 (230).

Strathcona alley-artists held their final games of the winter schedule Thursday night when Clubs Tobaccoists won the People's Credit Jewellers Trophy as senior tenpin league champions, setting Grandspot News by 146 pins 2684-2538 with a special prize, donated by Island Radiators, going to Dave Barr, who bowled the high three in the roll-off, 570.

Nighthawks Win Mixed-Five Rolloff

In the Commercial loop on the Hotel lanes, Fairfield Service bowled 2602 against Sherwin Williams 2497 to take the Strathcona Cafe Trophy. Herb Chandler tooped the Senior League with 585 (223) followed by Art Manson 557 (208), John Roper 555, Roy Begg 542 and Beaver Fell 546.

Mixed Fivepin League champions were decided at Gibson's Thursday night when Nighthawks blasted Fiberglass 3294-3136 in their roll-off.

Top scorers in the league's last night were L. Gane 778, A. Major 730, S. Sancho 722 (304), Wes Vogler 760, Bill McKinnon 730, and Harry Cool 718.

In the Eastern Fivepin Tourney at Gibson's last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith picked up most of the prize money with the rest being split evenly between Bill and Harry Cool.

Smith took the singles crown and $25 when he rolled 813 and then joined his wife to sweep the mixed doubles event with 1324 for another $25. The brothers Cool joined forces to bowl a total of 1415 for $25 and the men's doubles.

At the same time, another husband-wife team were coming one-two in the Eastern Fivepin Tournament at Capital City when W. Gregory of Nanaimo, took the singles title with 876 followed by Mrs. Gregory with 855 for second place.

Stan Bell and Keith Todd combined scores for 1,566 to win the doubles event while Jack Bendall, N. White, F. White, M. Bendall and Bud Lovegrove formed the winning team with a score of 3,508.

Island Tourney Stirs Excitement

Big excitement is being generated among Island Fivepinners with the opening, this morning, of the second annual Vancouver Island Fivepin Championships at Esquimalt Bowls where reglers will be shooting for Victoria Daily Times Perpetual Trophies, individual personal cups and cash prizes.

Doug Cole's HMCS Venture is back to try and repeat last year's championship play as is the Esquimalt team of Tony Bishop and Jerry Ryan, who took doubles honors in the first tourney.

Leading a strong up-island contingent is C. Surrey, of Port Alberni, who is sole owner of the Times singles trophy till next weekend and is determined to make it two in a row.

Eighty per cent handicaps are being allowed in all divisions of play with team events at 1,150 scratch, doubles 500 and singles 260.

To accommodate the large number of bowlers entered, the tournament is spread over two weekends, continuing May 4 and 5, with extra time being allowed Tuesday and Thursday nights so that finals and trophy presentations can be held next Sunday.

Last minute entries will still be accepted by Larry Marshall, manager of Esquimalt Bowls, 1225 Esquimalt Road, Phone 4,9423, or 9,3234.

SHAKE-UP AT DETROIT

Spike Briggs Quits (Or Was He Fired?)

DETROIT (AP)—The unglamorous divorce of the Briggs name from Detroit baseball will still be producing fireworks today, with ex-general manager Walter O. Spike Briggs saying he was "dumped" by the new owners in the climax of a plan conceived months ago.

The chairman of the board of directors and the club's president said simply that Briggs was not quite the case, and let it go at that.

Bitter at bowing out of Tiger baseball after what he called "21 years of frustration," the 45-year-old Briggs said some of the new owners "used me so they could buy the club and then dumped me when they got things where they wanted them."

"OUT TO GET ME"

Whether Briggs quit or was fired, the fact remains that for the first time since his father, Walter O. Briggs, Sr., bought no one.

He lost all of them Friday in a move that surprised almost no one.

Cardwell, making his first major league start, came up with a four-hitter and struck out four as Johnny Antonelli of the Giants suffered his second loss.

Chico Fernandez walloped a three-run homer for the Phillies who evened their season's record at 4-4.

Jim Rivera and Sherm Lollar homered as Billy Pierce gained his second win for the White Sox with late-inning relief help from Bob Keegan.

TIME OUT!

"For heavens sake don't touch it, Junior! For all we know he's throwing splitters!"

Flin Flon Takes Lead In Jr. Final

FLIN FLON, Man. (BUP)—The Flin Flon Bombers displayed masterful hockey here Friday night as they defeated the Ottawa Canadiens 3-1 in the opening game of the Memorial Cup junior hockey best-of-seven series before 2,100 fans.

The Bombers came from behind an early second-period Ottawa goal to score twice before the period ended and dump the clincher into an empty net late in the third. The first period was scoreless.

Bomber all-star defenceman George Konik scored two of the Flin Flon goals and team captain Ted Hampson tallied the other. Ottawa's team captain Ralph Backstrom was the only Canadian marksman.

DUNLOPS LEAD SERIES

Flyers Absorb Sad Lesson

TORONTO (CP)—Whitby Dunlops gave Spokane Flyers a lesson in sharpshooting Friday night as they moved to within two games of their first Allan Cup championship.

Although outshot 39-30, Dunlops had the more accurate shots and, with the aid of a quick two-goal third-period outburst by playing-coach Bus Gagnon, defeated Flyers 6-3.

The win gave the eastern Canada champions a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series for the Canadian senior hockey championship. Third game is scheduled tonight and the fourth next Tuesday. All games are to be played here.

A crowd of 3,501 watched the Flyers fire 18 shots at Dunlop goal-tender John Henderson in the first period but wind up trailing 2-1 in the scoring. Dunlops increased their lead to 3-1 early in the second before Flyers made it 3-2.

Early in the third, Flyers battled back to a 3-3 tie but Gagnon led Whitby on a shooting spree midway through the period with two goals in 22 seconds to wrap up the game.

Third Soviet Spy Suspect in U.S. Confesses Guilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacob Albam, accused member of a Soviet spy ring, Friday pleaded guilty to conspiring with Russians to obtain U.S. defence data for transmission to Russia.

Albam, 64, was the third member of an espionage ring seized by the FBI early this year to confess his guilt.

His action came 16 days after two cohorts in the plot, Jack Sobie, 53, and Sobie's wife, Myra, 52, formerly of Montreal, entered similar pleas, and threw themselves on the mercy of the court.

Judge Richard H. Levett set next Friday for sentencing. Each could get up to 10 years.

Taxi Driver Robbed at Gunpoint, Three-Time Loser to Holdup Men

(From CP Dispatches)
VANCOUVER — A Vancouver taxi driver became a three-time loser to holdup men Friday when he was robbed of $25 at gunpoint.

Alec Molner, 39, was robbed of his night's receipts by three men he picked up in Vancouver and drove to Whalley, a distance of 18 miles.

Molner said that while he was trying to change a $20 bill one of the three pulled a gun on him and said:

"This is it, driver, don't do anything and you won't get hurt."

They took Molner's wallet and car. The car was recovered by RCMP about a mile from the holdup.

Molner was held up by two passengers in 1953 and in 1955 he spent four days in hospital after being beaten up and robbed while walking downtown.

DRIVER CONVICTED
VERNON — Furnace operator Kitchener Bannatyne was found guilty of criminal negligence by a Supreme Court jury here Friday.

He was remanded for sentence by Mr. Justice Norman Whitaker until the end of the assizes.

Bannatyne had been charged following the traffic death last Oct. 5 of John Thomas Charlie of Grand Forks.

Charlie, a passenger in Bannatyne's car, died when the vehicle landed upside down in Christina Creek.

Charlie met his death by drowning, according to medical testimony. Bannatyne and a second passenger, Gerhardt B. Binski, crawled out of the submerged vehicle and swam to shore.

KILLED BY TRUCK
VANCOUVER — John Smart, 77, died Friday night after he was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck on a downtown street.

Police said the man stepped from between parked cars to cross the street. He was struck by a delivery truck which was moving in reverse along Union.

10% PAY BOOST
VANCOUVER — Firemen and policemen here Friday were awarded a 10 per cent pay increase by a conciliation board.

The award is binding on both the men and the city by a prior agreement.

The board turned down all requests for fringe benefits.

The boost brings the basic wage for a first-class police constable to $397 a month.

YOUNG BURGLAR JAILED
VANCOUVER — Connel Hughes, 21, smited Friday in police court when he was sentenced to a year in jail after admitting 40 or 50 break-ins.

He had pleaded guilty to three break-ins, one car theft, and one charge of possession of burglar's tools.

Hughes admitted committing 40 to 50 break-ins and taking loot worth thousands of dollars during the last two years.

TV Picture Tube Stops Traffic

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The U. S. Coast Guard reported late Friday night it had picked up what first had been thought to be a runaway mine. The object turned out to be a television picture tube. All traffic in Hampton Roads was halted for a period late in the day after the coast guard received two reports a mine had been sighted.

2 CARS WRECKED

Officer Risks Life to Halt Young Speeder

VANCOUVER (CP) — A city police constable risked his life Friday to stop a speeding driver after a 20-mile chase at speeds between 60 and 100 miles an hour.

Constable Ralph Hanson swerved his patrol car in front of the speeding auto, forcing both vehicles over a 50-foot ravine. Miraculously, the constable was uninjured except for minor head cuts.

Altogether, 12 cars were involved in the chase.

The police car was destroyed and the other car badly damaged.

PARAKEET GETS AIR, HUBBY WALKS OUT TOO

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Marital bliss literally flew out the window for Mr. and Mrs. Chastain Nolan.

Mrs. Nolan, 27, and the mother of three, told police here that her husband taught the family parakeet to say vulgar words at her.

She let the bird go and Nolan retorted by storming out, taking along most of his wife's clothes.

Mrs. Nolan filed for divorce.

Botanists Excited Over Finding Of Rare Star-Shaped Flowers

By HUMPHRY DAVY

Strange star-shaped fungi flowers, sparkling like jewels against the forest floor, were discovered this week at Ten Mile Point by three members of the Natural History Society.

The plants may turn out to be the major botanical discovery of the year for British Columbia.

They were found by Miss M.

C. Melburn, Miss Leila Roberts and Miss J. Brenton, who were searching for plants in a small private woodland park, near Tudor Road, owned by E. A. B. Mel.

Miss Melburn, a keen botanist, suspected the plants were unusual and collected them for identification by Dr. Adam Szczawinski, provincial botanist.

"I'm not quite sure what they are," said Dr. Szczawinski, "but I'm certain they are rare—so rare that none have ever been found in British Columbia."

He described the fungi-flowers by the tongue-twisting name of "sarcosphaera coronaria."

The plants today were sent to the University of British Columbia for further study by botanists.

They are odd plants. In their initial stages they are like puff-balls—some as large as a soft-ball. Then they will suddenly open into a beautiful star-shaped flower.

This specie of fungi has been giving scientists the merry-go-round for years. Records show that its a shy and elusive plant, rarely seen more than once in a lifetime. It occurs and then disappears, perhaps reappearing 20 or 30 years later at some other locality.

A few specimens of this specie have been found only in Oregon and California.

The plants are expected to arouse the interest of botanists in both Canada and the United States as little is known of their habits and chemical compositions. It's the type of plant which scientists are always searching for but never can find.

It has no common name but the few people who saw the flowers, Thursday dubbed them "jewels of the woods."

Fenders for repairs to CPSS Princess Joan, damaged in an early-morning collision near Sidney Friday, were to be opened in Vancouver this afternoon as the PCR announced schedule changes made necessary by the accident.

Repairs are expected to take four to five days.

Tenders for repairs were called by the company which holds the insurance on the ship. A CPR spokesman said today he did not anticipate an enquiry involving the Department of Transport.

NEGOTIATIONS

"It is likely the matter will be settled by negotiation between our insurance company and the owners of the other ship involved," he said.

The accident occurred in a heavy fog, when the prow of the Japanese freighter Tataka Maru, bound from Vancouver for Seattle, sliced into the Joan on the port side about 30 feet aft of the bow.

A gaping, wedge-shaped hole about 20 feet long and in some places three feet wide was torn in the steel plating, well above the water line.

Princess Marguerite was taken out of refit Friday to take over the Joan's sailings, but some cancellations of service were necessary.

CANCELLED

Following are services which have been cancelled:

—Midnight train, Vancouver-Victoria, Sunday; midnight sailings, Victoria-Vancouver, tonight and Monday.

Three round trips between Victoria and Port Angeles Monday have also been suspended.

The Port Angeles service, however, will open Sunday with all scheduled trips to be operated.

Vancouver to Nanaimo sailings at 9 a.m. Sunday and Tuesday, will be cancelled, as will the scheduled Nanaimo-Vancouver trips at 1 p.m. Sunday and Tuesday.

Brentwood Ferry Holed by Rock; Out of Service

One of the two Coast Ferries Ltd. ships operating on Brentwood-Mill Bay run will be out of service for several days while repairs are carried out on a two-by-three-foot hole in her hull.

The ferry, the Brentwood, struck a hidden rock near Canoe Cove late Friday night, on her way from refit in Victoria Harbor to resume her regular run.

The craft was beached, later pumped out and towed to Point Hope Shipyard by Island Tug & Barge Ltd.

A Coast Ferries spokesman said repairs would be made as quickly as possible.

Until the Brentwood is back in service, the other ferry—the Mill Bay—will operate an hourly service, leaving Brentwood on the hour and Mill Bay on the half-hour.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Oak Bay court Friday: Allan Morris Haskin, 1325 Fort, $35 for careless driving.

In Colwood RCMP court Friday: Norman Douglas Craig, Work Point, $15 and $50 costs for failing to report an accident.

Gordon Smith, 899 Craigflower, $35 and $3 costs for careless driving.

Travers George Musgrave, 3451 Shelbourne, $25 and $3 costs, and James Kenneth Sturrock, 229 Helmcken, $15 and $3 costs for speeding over 50 and over 30 respectively.

CITY BUDGET DOWN FRIDAY; 2-3 1/2 MILL BOOST EXPECTED

Victoria city 1957 budget probably will be presented to city council next Friday and most of the following week will be taken up with attempts to shrink it.

Mayor Percy Scourah today pledged his council to "hold the line as far as possible without cutting services too much."

A mill rate increase of from two to three and a half mills, is anticipated.

GRANDSON OF SASQUATCH

Songhees Hunting For 'Sasquit'

A band of Songhees braves to-day left for the interior of Vancouver Island to search for the grandson of a hairy Sasquatch reported to be living in a deep valley west of Cowichan Lake.

Chief Percy Ross said the braves will invite the son of the giant for the big Vancouver Island Indian Festival at Maple Bank Park on May 19 and 20—one of the Island's most colorful fetes of the year.

The chief said the Indians have known for a long time that the giant's grandson lived alone in a valley but feared if they told their "white brothers" he might come to some harm.

The hairy giant, like its parents, he said, shunned people.

HOW TO FEED?

"He loves salad and salmon berries as well as roots of plants," he said. "I'm at a loss to know how we will be able to find sufficient berries for his meals."

As for the original Sasquatch, the chief said the Indians would not be able to bring one to Victoria, except by force.

"They are fierce giants," he said, "and I would hate to try to capture one."

JOINT PROJECT

Still Possible

The door is still open if outside municipalities wish to join Victoria in a Centennial year project, Mayor Percy Scourah said today.

Since the city decided to "go it alone" on a 1958 memorial project there has been confusion among Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

Will the B.C. cabinet approve the Saanich scheme to support a centennial wing for Royal Jubilee Hospital? Will Oak Bay and Esquimalt support Saanich? Will any of the three have sufficient Centennial funds to support a worthy memorial individually?

Plans for a joint project were dropped when Victoria aldermen refused to accept the Royal Jubilee Hospital wing as a suitable memorial.

They felt the hospital wing would be built in the normal course of civic expansion and the city has already offered $125,000 to the project. Aldermen thought the centennial project should be "frothing on the cake"—something that would not be undertaken through need.

Price Boost For Beer Predicted

Possibility of a boost in the price of beer by the glass was forecast here today by James Neely, president, Hotel Inkeepers' Association of British Columbia.

"We are beginning to feel we are not getting sufficient revenue from investment," in the face of mounting labor and operating costs, he said.

No decision has yet been made among local hotel operators, although there has been discussion of the beer price increase.

"Some relief will have to come," said Mr. Neely.

Executive secretary of the B.C. Hotels Association, E. V. F. Ely, Vancouver, said today an increase in the price of a glass of beer is "inevitable" in B.C.

Some hotel operators feel the new price should be 15 cents a glass, or two glasses for 25 cents, following the pattern set in Prince Rupert where seven hotel operators Friday announced they were boosting beer prices following a wage increase for employees.

Cecil Horn, business agent for local 513, B.C. Hotels and Beverage Dispensers Union, said he heard of no discussion concerning the suggested price boost.

NEGOTIATING

His union is now in the process of negotiations with the hotel men.

Mr. Ely said the B.C. Liquor Act does not stipulate draft beer prices, but "it has always been the policy to inform the Liquor Control Board chairman of proposed increases and get the acquiescence of the LCB."

Board chairman Col. Donald McGugan said he had received no word of beer price increases and declined comment.

VHS Student Wins Jaycee Rodeo Title

Victoria High School student David J. Wright, 18, 1180 May Street, today won the Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored teenage safe-driving test.

On first computations, which may later be altered, he scored 437 1/2 points out of a possible 500 in the three-hour tests that started at 9:30 a.m. in the Garry Road yard of the B.C. Electric.

He topped 27 other entrants.

No. 2 spot went to Larry Elgood, 18, of 1253 Simon. Also a Victoria High student, he scored 422 points.

Third place was won by Victoria College student Peter Chapman, 18, of the Empress Hotel, who scored 410 points.

David Wright will go to Vancouver next month on an expense-paid trip to compete in the B.C. safe-driving competition for teenagers. The B.C. winner will go to London, Ont., for July 12 national finals.

The three top drivers here all won merchandise prizes of automotive equipment.

They went through four events which included parking, driving alignments and negotiation of a serpentine hazard route. Competing drivers were aged from 16 to 20 years.

MONTE ROBERTS

OUR VERY OWN ISLAND DIGEST

SOMEWHERE UP-ISLAND (Special to the Times)—Representatives of progressive Island communities met here Friday night to discuss a joint centennial project.

The feeling of the meeting was expressed by Mayor Abner Goon, of Goon Centre, when he referred to the provincial government's per capita grant for a centennial project.

"If we all get together, we will have more per capita," stated Mayor Goon.

"The more capita we have, the more we will get from the government," he explained.

The meeting voted unanimously to get more from the government.

Lem Fuddnik of Lunchville sounded a note of warning when he said he doubted they could get more from the government, no matter how many capita were per capita-ed.

"The government is so used to getting more from us, it will be hard for it to do a turn-about," he said.

However, the rest of the meeting said Lem was nothing but a pessimist, and the business of the evening went on while Lem went down to the pool hall to borrow a dictionary and find out what pessimist means.

Main discussion at the meeting centred around the form a joint project should take.

Seven progressive Island communities were represented at the meeting, and there was a remarkable unanimity of opinion on what form the centennial project should take.

Only six different ideas were presented to the meeting. Wallopem Beach abstaining, this being the off-season, like.

Discussion was carried on in a very friendly vein, the only casualty being Mayor Abner Goon, who ventured to state the proposal of Mrs. Abner Goon was complete balderdash and tommy-rot.

He is expected to be up and around in time for the centennial, if all goes well.

Lem Fuddnik, when he returned from the pool hall after looking pessimist up in the dictionary, said if the government was going to buy something expensive for the centennial project, he would just as soon take the money.

This suggestion was greeted with a round of applause. The meeting then adjourned after deciding to have another meeting, sometime, somewhere, to discuss how to spend the money.

Meanwhile, a standing committee was appointed to count the per capita.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Play entitled "Heaven on Earth" and variety concert will be given by the Good Samaritan Entertainers at a League of Roses meeting in the Business and Professional Women's club-room next Thursday at 8 p.m.

City firemen extinguished a minor blaze at a wood shed at the shop of J. Lomas, 1406 Hillside, Friday at 3:15 p.m. Damage was slight.

The treasury board has approved wage boosts for about 120 automotive mechanics and ammunition workers at HMC Dockyard and Rocky Point arsenal.

The mechanics' wage increase, retroactive to September 17, 1956, is from $1.78 1/2 an hour to $2 an hour. Ammunition workers get a 20 cent an hour boost, retroactive to October 15, 1956.

Parfitt Construction Co. Friday was awarded a $39,256 contract for construction of a new Oak Bay police station to be included in expansion of the firehall.

The bid was the lowest of seven received.

A six week swimming instructors course will be sponsored by the Red Cross Society in the Crystal Garden starting May 4.

Information may be obtained from Mrs. Shirley Brimblecombe, 3-8373.

Charges under the Game Act brought fines of $10 and $3 costs in Colwood RCMP court Friday for Leslie Francis Harmsworth, 1920 Beach, and Ronald Smith, 1529 Lincoln.

Harmsworth was caught fishing without a licence at Grant Lake and Smith was found carrying fishing tackle, also without a licence, near San Juan River.

Royal Oak High School students will present a spring concert in the school auditorium next Friday at 8 p.m. The concert will feature singing, dancing, a one-act play and tumbling display.

from the prairies," he said in an interview.

"The population has doubled since I came here 11 years ago. Why in my area alone there have been seven or eight prairie families settled since I bought my home."

Mr. Zabel said the movement from the plains country to the Island has accelerated in recent years with a number of factors responsible. These include the larger number of persons on the prairies approaching retirement age and also the intensified publicity campaigns sponsored by Victoria organizations.

Mr. Zabel, owner of the Dominion Hotel, said it was surprising to see the number of prairie folk who visit the city for a few days, like what they see and, "before you know it," buy a home here.

(As a matter of fact any couple retiring from Saskatchewan causes surprise if they head for any other place than Victoria).

Salubrious climate and scenery of course still are central factors behind Victoria's attraction for residents of the flat country where winters are long and frigid and summers short and blistering.

"When you've lived in a country where the temperature often goes down to 50 below zero and even as low as 72 below, Victoria's pleasant mean temperature sure feels comfortable," Mr. Zabel reminisced.

"The prairie is a hard coun-

'GIFT OF FAITH'

Pope Urges Church Fight Communism

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius has called the entire Roman Catholic Church to a vast missionary action. The pontiff called for a special effort in Africa, saying its people face the danger of communism. The Pope's appeal was made in an Easter encyclical letter to bishops of the church, made public today.

Its title, from its first two Latin words—fidei donum—is "gift of faith."

The 81-year-old head of the church appealed to the more than 450,000,000 Catholics to aid in bringing this gift to others by prayer, financial help and, "in the case of some," dedication of their lives.

Mrs. Norma Mickelson will be guest speaker at the morning service in Victoria Truth Centre. Her subject will be "In My Father's House Are Many Mansions." Robert Ferguson will speak on "Eyes That See" at night.

Dr. J. B. Rowell will speak on "Life's Experience, a Point of Departure," at the morning service in Central Baptist Church. His evening subject will be "Jesus on Trial—Critics Silenced by the Evidence."

Rev. Arthur F. Grobe will preach on "The Unbeliever Convinced" at the morning service in First Church of the Nazarene. His evening message is entitled "The Homesteader's Claim."

Special young people's service will be held Friday at 8 p.m.

CLOCKS AHEAD TONIGHT; GET TO CHURCH ON TIME

Don't fall into the error that has embarrassed some churchgoers in previous years. Move your clock ahead one hour before retiring tonight.

Then you'll be on Daylight Saving Time for Sunday morning's services.

And, maybe, as you leave you'll meet some red-faced parishioner who didn't change his clock—and got to church just as the service ended.

YOU SAID TO ME—

By ETHEL TULL
A Sunday message of help and comfort for those puzzled, depressed or low in spirit.

You said to me, "Is not prayer one of God's most precious gifts, together with the Practice of His Presence?"

My thought about prayer is that it is a mingling of our human nature with the divine nature of God. The great Creator reaches down, and the human heart is lifted up, and from that union is born for the human life beauty and wisdom and strength.

I have been ill, and now God is giving me new life. I look from my window, and see the plum tree in the garden bursting into bloom that is almost incredible in its beauty, and I long for the loveliness of the Spirit of God to shine through my new being.

I have been seeing beauty all around me in my time of weakness. It was in the loving, patient care of sisters and nurses and doctors in the hospital—in the forgetfulness of self in the other patients—in the friends who came to see us, and in the flowers and cards that made the room bright, and reminded us that there were those outside who thought of us and prayed for us.

Then, after the wonderful home-coming, the warmth of love there, and the visits of so many friends, and their constant thought and care for our comfort! How much beauty shone through it all, with the assurance that it was created by faithful prayer-lives, and the "practice of the Presence of God."

I have been lifted right up to God, and have seen His beauty and felt the wonder of His love. Now, after this glorious Easter-time, may I learn to be so guided by His Spirit that in me, too—though I am old in years—there may spring up new life, and I may reflect something of the glory that I have seen.

Victoria Daily Times SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1957 19

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Todd are very proud of their Newport Avenue home. It is one of the newer gardens in Victoria and Mr. Todd has done much of the work himself to bring it to its present perfection. There is ample room for their young folks and the two Golden Retrievers to roam at will and yet still a place for the beauty of rockeries and flower borders.

Daily Tours During Festival

Wednesday afternoon the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bloomfield, 237 King George Crescent; Mr. and Mrs. N. Abkazi, 1964 Fairfield Road; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Well, 3023 Beach Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Husband, 3150 Rutland Road, will be open to the public.

On Thursday the beauties of the garden at "Cobac," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Firth, 2675 Queenswood Drive, will be seen; also the gardens of Dr. Thomas Mercer, 2750 Tudor Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McGill, 3441 Mayfair Drive, and Mrs. M. L. Sayward-Wilson at "Twin Coves," 2670 Queenswood Drive.

Friday you may see the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Edgell, 3230 Beach Drive; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wallace, "Riffington," 3175 Beach Drive; Mr. and Mrs. S. Stephens, "Robinwood," 3155 Beach Drive; Hon. R. W. Mayhew and Mrs. Mayhew, "Kah-na-way," 3125 Beach Drive; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Todd, 341 Newport Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Todd, 508 Island Drive.

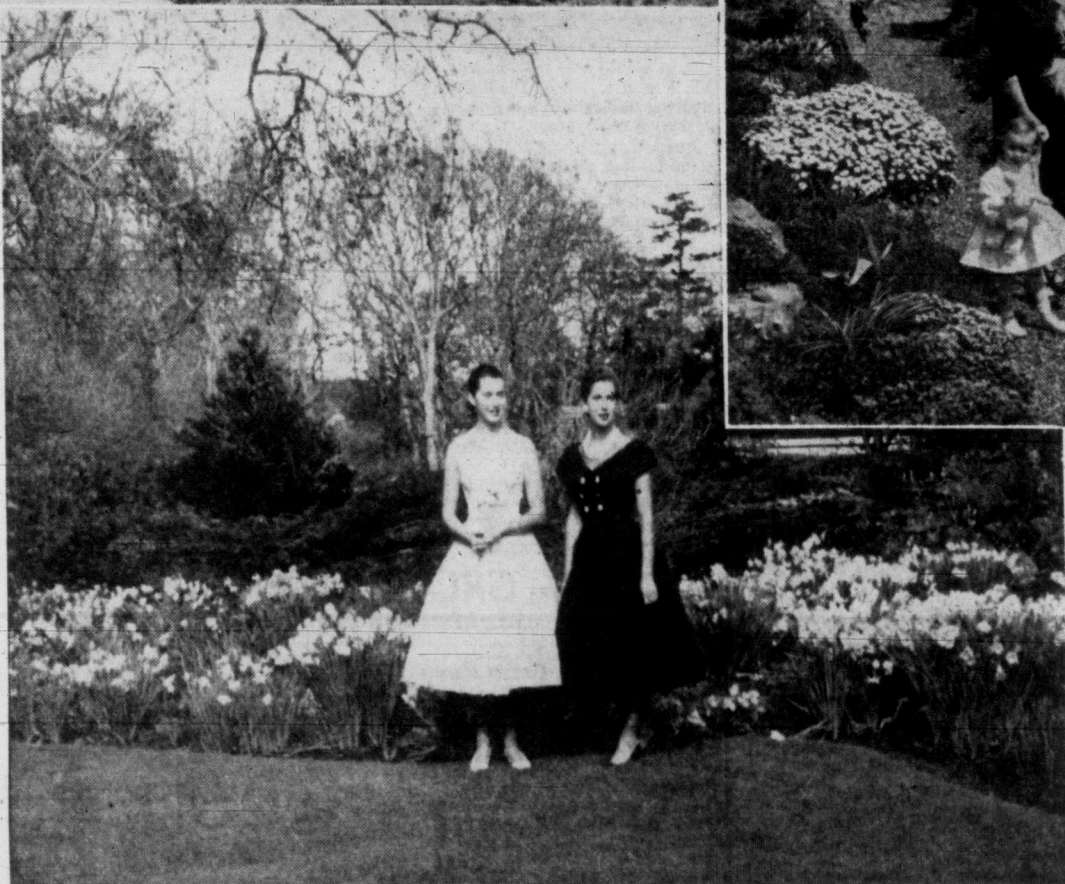

Saturday, the last day of the festival, the Anson Firth, R. H. Edgell and N. Abkazi gardens will again be open. Also the attractive rock garden of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Ahier, 1233 Palmer Road.

AT THE TEA HOUR

Each day an extra stop will be made at the tea hour, on Wednesday at Old Charming Inn; Thursday at the flower show sponsored by the St. George The Martyr's Guild in the parish hall at Cadboro Bay; Friday at the garden of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Jameson, 2420 Lansdowne Road, where the Women's Auxiliary to Metropolitan United Church will be holding a garden fete and on Saturday at the garden of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Cranston, 4651 Haro Road, where a Spring Ridotto will be in full swing, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Family and Children's Service.

An outstanding rock garden with a panoramic view of Victoria is offered from the W. W. McGill garden on the slopes of Mount Tolmie. Here, originally, was only bare rock and stunted Garry oaks. Imagination, plus yards of imported topsoil has produced a place of rare charm and beauty. Mrs. McGill is pictured at the attractive pool with her granddaughter, Beth, and the family pet, Ting.

"Little Dene," the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Edgell is well-known to those who follow the spring garden festival. It is at its best during this season of the year and well rewards the owners for the work that goes into it. Mrs. Edgell is the ardent gardener but all the family assist, including the two daughters, Susan at right and Gillian.

Each year in this season of blossoms, Victoria Horticultural Society sponsors a Spring Garden Festival in which a number of the city's most beautiful gardens are opened to the public. Tours are arranged during the four days of the festival and ample time is given at each stop for garden lovers to enjoy the beauty of landscaping, the rockeries and the flowers. Each garden is different and each mirrors the artistry and floral loves of the various owners. At no other season of the year are the gardens open to the public and the festival is awaited with much interest not only by Victorians but by many visitors who come at this time to enjoy the beauties of the "Garden City of the West."

Mrs. Harold Husband and her two daughters, Vicky and Alix, add an attractive note to the peaceful charm of their walled seaside garden in which a swimming pool, located in a natural rock outcrop, is a point of interest.

Hon. R. W. Mayhew and Mrs. Mayhew have a seaside estate in which extensive rolling lawns blend perfectly into the rockeries and flower beds. There is a wide expanse of tulips and daffodils and many flowering shrubs of rare varieties.

Multi-Tones Plastic Spray Something Excitingly New

By PENNY SAVER

Amazing new substances for decorating and building have entered the supply markets, and you do-it-yourself addicts are now able to do almost anything in remodelling and redecorating. Especially wonderful for redoing older homes or refinishing marred surfaces is something very new... a color-flecked plastic decorator finish. This spray-on-surface coating makes it possible to spray a surface with two or more colors simultaneously in a single coat. No special spray equipment or complex spray technique is required. The multiple colors exist separately within the finish. They do not merge or blend, and upon being sprayed, they create an interlacing network of color. This new finish is washable. Soiled walls may be washed many times with soap and water or even abrasive cleansers without marring. The durable film resists chipping and scratching to a far greater degree than conventional finishes.

When scratches or abrasions do occur, they are hard to see on the multi-colored, texture's surface. The finish, applied according to manufacturer's specifications, may be touched up at any time without refinishing the whole wall. This reduced maintenance costs for areas of severe wear.

HERBS IN THE HOME

Spice Balls' Fragrance Refreshing

By PATRICIA RAE

I've been asked the secret of my pomander-ball. They are put in the pocket of a winter overcoat or to tuck among the blankets instead of camphor squares or mothballs.

There are several methods of making these scented balls, but I evolved my own from experience, as I found the more fixatives I used the less chance there was of failure!

CITRUS FRUIT IS USED

Select a small orange or lemon, with firm skin. Puncture the skin of the fruit with a skewer or canvas-needle and in each hole carefully insert a whole clove, until the lemon is completely covered with "nail-heads." (As this is rather messy work and the cloves are inclined to stain the fingers brown, it is best to wear rubber gloves, for this part of the work.)

Now make up your own mixture of spices, in equal parts, using cinnamon, mace, allspice, clove-powder, nutmeg and so on. Place the mixed dry spices in a stone mortar and into it measure an equal quantity oforris-root powder and alum. To make my pomander-balls more fragrant I used to sometimes add sandalwood powder and a little frankincense to the ordinary spice-mixture; and for extra-special pomander-balls that were to be posted long distances, I added powdered myrrh and gum-arabic; but of course this adds a great deal to the cost!

After all spices and fixatives have been carefully ground and mixed, using a pestle and mortar, pour the mixture onto a clean piece of paper and rub it carefully into the clove-studded lemon.

Wrap each lemon separately in a piece of clean, dry tissue paper and leave for about 10 days.

SHOULD DRY IN 10 DAYS

Unwrap carefully and press the lemon all over to see if it is preserving properly or has remained damp. If it feels damp you will have to discard it or it may later grow musty. By this time the alum andorris-root should have dried the fruit entirely and the cloves and spices given it an unusual perfume.

I found that it was a good idea never to start making a pomander-ball on a damp or rainy day; and that only cool weather was suitable for this. I would certainly never make one in a steam-heated room, as in summer the fruit was apt to go soft after being pierced.

When the ball is quite dry, wrap it in a paper-lace doily and then slip it carefully into a yellow organdie bag, tied with matching or contrasting loops. (The white doily shows clearly through the organdie like "broderie-anglaise" on a half-pettie!)

Provided they are not in a damp cupboard, these pomander-balls should keep their fragrance for over a year; the lemon shrinking and hardening until it becomes almost petrified. (The one I showed on TV was five years old and had only been half-covered with cloves, yet it was as hard as a stone, had many of the clove-heads still firmly embedded in the skin and there was still a slight fragrance.)

IN STEP WITH STYLE

Fashionable Sportswear For the Style-Wise Woman

By NONA DAMASKE

There are so many events nowadays that the whole family participates in together—either actively or as spectators.

Take tomorrow! I've no doubt many family groups will be out at Gorge Vale Golf Club to follow the semifinals of the Vancouver Island Open Golf Tournament.

And the burning question will be—as always—what to wear. How about choosing a co-ordinated skirt and twin sweater set in primrose yellow? The most favored style seems to be a straight skirt with matching belt and peg top pockets. There is a double kick pleat at the back so you will have no trouble climbing the hills as you follow your favorite golfer. The twin sweaters are of a classic design and as the neckline is simple you may wish to add a Liberty of London scarf. Be sure to wear low-heeled shoes as club officials take a very dim view of the gals who wear any type of heel which digs into the turf.

Indoor spectator sports may be on your program in the next few weeks. The lacrosse season has begun and Dad may decide to take in a few games and root for the home team.

Very new and most appropriate on such occasions would be one of the heavy knit coats which are just arriving in our stores.

Next week at the Victoria Gun Club, men and women will be firing away in the Vancouver Island Trap Championship Shoot. If you are a participant you will no doubt be wearing a regulation khaki shooting jacket emblazoned with your club crest and maybe a few championship badges. If you are taking the family out to the clubhouse for lunch and to watch precision shooting you will feel at home in slacks and a sweater.

The most attractive slacks I have seen in some time were tailored by Gordon of Montreal in Brown Watch tartan. Combine these with one of the new jacket-like heavy knit sweaters and a man-tailored shirt of pale green and you will probably be accused of attracting the attention of the shooters away from the clay pigeons.

If you haven't done any shooting and you are persuaded to try... watch out for franksters. Recently I thought I had shot myself when a "phoney" shell exploded in a cloud of black smoke!

Daughter's favorite days are Saturday and Sunday, and in her tapered corduroy slacks and chesterfield coat by Brioni, she can scarcely wait to get out in the lovely countryside.

Mrs. King Retires After 32 Years

By TERRY FRENCH

"I am retiring, but I am not through with Girl Guide work by any means," stated Mrs. Freeman King, who for the past 32 years has been very active and very well known in Guide circles on Vancouver Island.

At a guiders' meeting last week Brownies, Guides and the Local Association members of the Saanich Division of which she has been division commissioner for the past 14 years, presented her with a television set. Though this presentation would seem to represent the severing of connections with the Canadian Girl Guides, Mrs. King reassures us that this is not so.

She will be "keeping a finger in the pie" of many guide projects and in particular, the Elk Lake campsite, newly-purchased this year. The buying of the 30 acres of lakeside property could be called the realization of her dream. Every year the question arose, "Where will our girls camp?" she explained. Now the problem is forever solved, for the property is about to be cleared.

FAMILY AFFAIR

With a twinkle in her eye, she told me that the first camp would be raised there in the first week of July.

Her interest in the campsite is typical of her intense interest in all guide work since the day, years ago, when she took two of her three daughters, Grace and Gwen, then eight and six, to a Brownie meeting in Sidney, where they then lived. The intention was to enroll them, but as things turned out, the local group was in need of leaders and before they knew what had happened the whole King family was enmeshed; Mrs. King and the girls in guide work, and Mr. King, a former scout, in the scout activity.

Since then both Mr. and Mrs.

She has taught Brownies fairy stories and Girl Guides semaphore and been a conscientious worker for the Girl Guide activities on Vancouver Island for many years.

King have taken active parts in scout and guide work. Mrs. Freeman has held every office there is in the Girl Guides, and in holding the district commissioner post for 14 years has set a record. This is a three-year post with possible three-year extension... but they couldn't let her go.

Now that guide work is not so all-encompassing, Mrs. King's day may include a stint in her bright flower garden, a real prize, for which neither she nor Mr. King have had a great deal of time.

Her new status with the CGG has not yet been established but it will no doubt be in some realm where her great enthusiasm and energy will be put to good use. She still has her mind on developing that new campsite.

Modern Lens Grinding Plant on Premises

Seated in her living room, Mrs. Trevor Housser surveys the charming French style furnishings before opening her home to Victorians who participate in the Art Gallery house tour.

Traditional Elegance Awaits Gallery Tour

By KITTY DIXON

A step over the threshold of Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Housser's living room is a step into a 19th century French salon.

Therein lies a wealth of antique beauty, carefully appointed to convey traditional elegance as well as warmth a family home requires.

The charming blues and golds favored in this period, paneled walls, old-world settees with button backs, elaborate chairs, are all seen in comfortable elegance allowed by another country, another age.

All this is accessible to Victoria homemakers who take advantage of the annual house tour sponsored by the Women's Committee to the Greater Victoria Art Gallery, May 11.

The Housser residence will be displayed along with three other homes, all fine examples of good taste and practicality in both modern and traditional interior decoration.

"Oakridge," home of the Housers, 2570 Nottingham Road, is decorated throughout in traditional style, although all rooms are not of the same period.

The living room is Mrs. Housser's favorite. It is a cool French blue, the paneled walls light, the soft-pile carpet slightly deeper. Drapes over the old-fashioned leaded windows are palest blue, silkscreen-printed with soft rose peonies, having overtones of blue.

There are two comfortable fireside chairs upholstered in fabric of the drapes, and before a near-floor-length window, there is a 19th century settee of lilac-rose hue, picking up the pinky tones of the draperies.

Mrs. Housser has deftly used touches of gold to enrich the blue colorings of the room. A wall alcove to display ornaments and shades of two lamps gleam in gold.

As a hanging vase above the fireplace, Mrs. Housser has used an old French labevo of white china touched with gold. "A labevo," Mrs. Housser explains, "is an antique wash basin. You fill the top with water, turn the tiny tap and water trickles into a bowl cupped around the bottom."

It is this lower basin which she keeps brimming with fresh-cut flowers.

Family heirlooms, such as a quaint rosewood melodian (a five-octave keyboard instrument) and a hand-worked petit point stool add to the old-world charm of the room.

First thing to catch the eye as one enters the Housser's dining room is a glistening Swedish crystal chandelier, above the dining table. It is very old, having been made for candles, but now wired for electricity.

The suite is of walnut, with chair backs and seats of toile chintz. The Italian-blue and white fabric patterned with scenes of old Venice is also used in full-length drapes.

A luxuriously-soft rug of white British India cotton and giant-size blue Italian salt and pepper mills as table ornaments carry out the color theme.

Obviously a family room is the Housser den, which overlooks the garden. Again we see the favored blue theme, here reflected in paler tone, the walls a Wedgwood shade and the carpets, identically matching.

Bright Colors Add Warmth

Cheery draw drapes pick up the blue and combine it with chartreuse, olive and white. Carrying out the "homey" look of the room are two comfy chairs upholstered in lemon yellow and a couch in bright red. One wall is given completely to book shelves, and an old-fashioned Welsh dresser conceals a TV set in its lower cupboards. The open shelves above display a collection of rustic, Devon pottery.

The kitchen is bright as kitchens should be, with early American print wallpaper identically matching the curtains. Both paper and curtains are mustard yellow, patterned with bright reds, greens and blues. Cabinets are all knotty pine and the yellow table is high, jutting out from the wall as a counter. Beneath it are smart oak stools with sturdy rush seats.

Passing through the entrance hall with its ebony black woodwork and burgundy carpeting and up the winding staircase, we reach the master bedroom. This is a restful place, with walls, furniture and bedspread in soothing celadon green. Green melts into grey in the soft carpets and tiled fireplace and a splash of color is added with red and grey fern-patterned drapes and an upholstered chair and footstool. Several Dolton china plates in pale green painted with bird designs hang upon the walls.

Ten-year-old Blakely's room has everything a young boy dreams of in a room of his own. It is gaily decorated in hunter green with honey-finished maple furniture. Yellow and green leaf-patterned curtains add more color, and there is ample room for a 10-year-old's collection of sports equipment, books and toys.

Little Deborah, seven, can pretend she's a princess as she drifts off to sleep in her white-ruffled canopied bed. A bedspread of green picks up the gold of the walls and carpet and patterns it with red.

There is a window-side couch which can double as a second bed, should Deborah have an overnight guest.

Other homes being shown in the house tour are those of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, 2021 Runnymede Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roberts, 935 Foul Bay Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Peden, 3205 Cadboro Bay Road. Those wishing transportation to the homes may call at the Art Gallery, where tea will be served in the afternoon, for those who wish to return.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lose Extra Pounds for Health as Well as Beauty

It is so important to lose any overweight you may have, not only because of appearance but also because of health and comfort. It is even important to lose the first extra 10 pounds you may accumulate. Before you know it that 10 may turn into 20, and even 10 pounds can ruin an otherwise youthful figure.

Weight is a real health hazard. It places a strain on the heart, can raise the blood pressure and lay the foundation for chronic diseases.

Too many pounds also are uncomfortable. That roll above the girdle or a protruding abdomen are uncomfortable physically as well as psychologically. Why not start in right now and banish such handicaps?

Here are the menus for the nine-day reducing diet for Sunday and Monday.

SUNDAY'S MENUS

Breakfast—Two slices crisp bacon, one thin dry slice of whole wheat toast, one-half grapefruit, black coffee.

Dinner—Chilled orange juice, serving of baked or broiled chicken, celery, olives, (only two or three) one-half cup lima beans, one roll, fresh fruit cup.

Supper—Scrambled eggs, lettuce and cucumber salad, one glass skimmed milk.

MONDAY'S MENUS

Breakfast—One-half grapefruit, one boiled egg, one thin slice of whole wheat toast, black coffee.

Luncheon—Chicken sandwich, (no butter—thin slices of whole wheat bread) sliced tomatoes or canned tomatoes, one glass skimmed milk.

Dinner—Minute steak or chops, salad of shredded cabbage and carrots, one-half cup spinach-greens or broccoli, one-half grapefruit, one glass skimmed milk.

If you would like to have my nine-day reducing diet, which gives you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for that booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Boag, 4528 Stratford Road, became the bride of Richard Eric Bevan Gore-Langton, son of Mrs. W. Cross, Towner Park Road, Sidney.

The lovely, sunny-haired bride, given in marriage by her brother, David A. Boag, was a picture in her Elizabethan-style bridal gown of white brocade. A fingertip-length veil misted from a dainty coronet of lily of the valley. Completing her ensemble, she carried a bridal bouquet of pink roses.

Attending the bride were maid of honor, Miss Mary Sowden, and bridesmaids, Miss Brenda Boag, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Emery.

Miss Snowden's gown was of white eyelet embroidery over pink with white hat and a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Miss Boag and Miss Emery were gowned in pale yellow and pale blue, respectively. Their bouffant-skirted gowns were complemented with matching muffs with a spray of pink rosebuds, matching the rose circlets in their hair.

Following a honeymoon in California, Mr. and Mrs. Gore-Langton will live in Victoria.

Canada Needs Woman Power—Mme. Vautelet

"Woman power is the only card yet socially unplayed in the oft-shuffled pack of humanity's efforts to cure itself of war."

These dynamic words were spoken by Mme. H. E. Vautelet, Friday, at a luncheon meeting of the provincial Canadian Association of Consumers.

"If only one generation of women would give to peace the selflessness and service they give to war, we might build a democracy no rival country could imperil."

"Acceptance of other people's ruling as to what is our 'proper place' makes women the last of the cave dwellers."

"Management of the home 'cavern' must come second to management of the ship that carries it."

"Facts remain stronger than tradition," Mme. Vautelet stressed.

"Cooking a good meal will always come second in importance to seeing that the ingredients consumed by the people are safe and supervised."

"Keeping one's children clean is less important than keeping the streets and city they play in safe."

"Supervising homework comes a poor second to making sure our children's education gives them what they need in a troubled world."

"Being a thrifty shopper is less urgent than knowing how not to raise prices through spending."

Mme. Vautelet told the meeting that creating more informed consumers is everyone's business. It may be a necessity of survival, since today we rest our hopes of "selling" democracy to half the world, mainly on the superior values and stability of our economic system.

"Today the justification of joining CAC is actually a moral issue in a world where woman power may be the last untold hope for peace and sanity, in a world that has tried for thousands of years to get balanced enough and objective enough to avoid war, and is further from success than ever before."

Mme. Vautelet was introduced by Miss Charlotte Black, immediate past president of Provincial CAC. Special guests at the luncheon were Alderman Lily Wilson, Rev. Laura Butler, Mrs. Wesley Black and Mrs. Ray Williston.

Garden Tea—Plans for a garden tea were discussed at a recent meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Metropolitan United Church. It was decided that Mrs. A. M. Holder will receive guests at the affair which will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carron Jameson, 2420 Lansdowne, next Friday. Mrs. Jack Gillespie and Mrs. Frank Godley were soloists.

Mrs. A. Farey and Mrs. S. Hulford were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower to honor Miss Beverly Farey, an April bride-elect. Upon arrival the honor guest was presented with a corsage of rosebuds and her mother, Mrs. A. Farey; mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. A. Todd, and grandmother of the bride-elect, Mrs. J. E. Shirley Corry and Garry Gilbert Wed Friday in Esquimalt Church

Daffodils, iris and tulips formed the lovely floral setting for the ceremony in Esquimalt United Church Friday evening when Miss Shirley Elizabeth Corry became the bride of Garry Edward Gilbert.

Rev. D. Pilkey heard the vows of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Corry, 888 Dunsmuir Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, 1128 Old Esquimalt Road.

The attractive, fair-haired bride was charming in a gown of white lace and net fashioned with lace bodice, tiny stand-up collar and lily-point sleeves. Tiers of net were posed over a hoop skirt. Her fingertip veil was held to a lace and pearl headpiece, and her bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis with pink sweetheart roses and white heather.

Mrs. R. Rathgeber, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Mardie Bell and Miss Eileen Hay, bridesmaids. They were gowned in mauve taffeta, with mauve hats, and carried bouquets of pink carnations. The bride's niece, Lynn Rathgeber, was flower girl and wore a mauve taffeta frock with pink over skirt and matching her floral headband. The colonial bouquet was pink. Page boy, Darryl Corry, nephew of the bride, wore black velvet pants and a white silk shirt with black bow tie.

The groom had Paul Simpson as best man, and ushering guests to pews marked with white ribbons and heather were Hubert Parry and Howard Sneed.

Organist Mrs. Vincent Rush played traditional wedding music during the ceremony and accompanied the soloist, Miss Lois Burns.

At a wedding reception held at the Golden Slipper, 200 guests were received. Mrs. Corry, in a turquoise blue dress with matching hat, black accessories and pink carnation corsage, and Mrs. Gilbert in a navy blue silk dress with pink hat and accessories and corsage of carnations assisted in receiving guests. A three-tier wedding cake decorated with yellow roses centred the bride's table, which was marked with streamers and vases of yellow roses.

James Bryant proposed the toast to the bride, his niece. For a honeymoon trip through Washington the bride donned a periwinkle blue velvet sheath dress with matching hat, grey fur jacket and black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will live at 888 Dunsmuir Road when they return.

ONE WORD LEADS TO ANOTHER

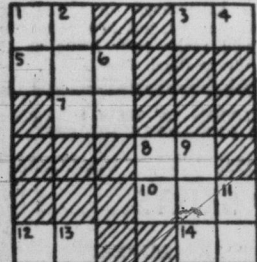

Sometimes, when you just can't think of a word, another word may remind you of it. The skeletonized words at right bear lots of little words for reminders as you will discover.

To begin, copy each letter now showing in each empty space below it. Then, using the letters in the lower blanks, guess at missing letters and try to form short words to fill the diagram. Each vertical row

READIN', WRITIN' AND 'RITHMETIC TESTER

To solve this wits tester, proceed as in a crossword puzzle, using numbers instead of letters for the answers. Insert a single digit in each square. The trick is to get answers that will function across and down.

1. Minor point of no return.
 3. Puzzle: Which letter of the alphabet can you add to 9 to make 6?
 5. Clue: Eve ate apples and Adam, too, but the devil won.

WHAT'S THE DISH?

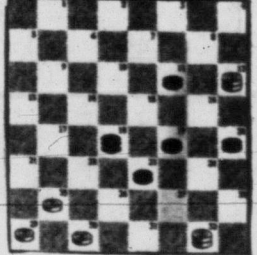

At the next dinner of a local puzzlers' club, each couple will provide one course, thus it'll be something like an old-fashioned "covered-dish dinner."

Mrs. Filbert, asked what course she and her husband would provide, wrote out the following:

One-eighth of tomatoes.
One-sixth of a potato.
One-sixth of a turnip.
One-seventh of parsley.

That, of course, is not the recipe, but it does conceal the name of what the Filberts are bringing.

Have you guessed what it is?

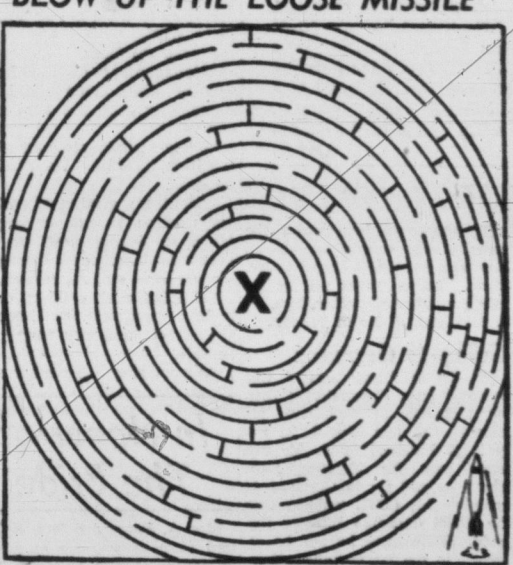

IT'S YOUR MOVE

There's a kinship to baseball in this checker poser in that White executes a pair of double-plays. It's White's turn; he's moving up the board. Can you manoeuvre White's men to a win in four moves?

PARKING PROBLEM

Five automobiles were parked bumper to bumper. How many bumpers were actually touching?

BLOW UP THE LOOSE MISSILE

A guided missile shown in the diagram at right is triggered to explode at the point marked X, which represents a restricted target zone. Can you guide this device so that it will reach this area without incident? Of course, this means that you must follow the shortest path without crossing lines or running into dead ends.

Time limit: three minutes.

TRAVEL RHYMES TO TEST YOU

All missing rhyme words below are names of means of transportation. Each rhyme with the last word in the preceding line.

How quickly can you fill in the missing words?

ISLAND DIGEST

Victoria Daily Times SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1957 23

Trustees Accept Mill Bay School

Builders Must Correst Any Faults On Delayed Job Before June 30

DUNCAN—Cowichan District 65 school board voted this week to take over the new George E. Bonner secondary school near Mill Bay with the proviso that all construction and equipment deficiencies be rectified before June 30.

Original date set for completion of the school was Dec. 15, but contractors H. E. Fowler and Sons of Victoria blamed weather and material shortages for the delay.

200 STUDENTS

The $225,000 school will have six classrooms, home economics and industrial arts rooms, and a combined gymnasium-auditorium. It will accommodate about 200 students from Cobble Hill, Shawnigan Lake, Mill Bay and Bamerton.

The board decided to spend $2,300 on an alarm system and improvement of stage wiring at Cowichan High School.

Langford Church To Honor Women

LANGFORD — The annual dinner given by the parish of Our Lady of the Rosary Church, Langford, to honor the executive and members of the Catholic Women's League for their work during the past year, will be held in the Parish Hall, Goldstream Avenue, Monday at 8 p.m.

Election of officers will take place.

Your Election

COWICHAN LEADER—This district has been overshadowed completely by the Nanaimo area in the matter of choice of party candidates for the June 10 election.

There may be several reasons for this, among which is that of loose party organization. Regrettable as this fact is it must be faced and something done in future to put forward the names of prominent residents capable of taking the platform against all comers in a contest for party nomination.

A Sound Move

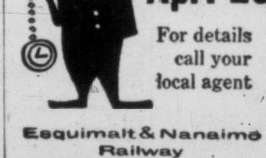

SIDNEY REVIEW—Village of Sidney, one of British Columbia's youngest municipalities, has taken a long stride towards maturity this week by raising its sights from routine matters of municipal administration to launch a two-pronged frontal attack on the soaring costs of education. Because every taxpayer in the village must dig deeper into his purse every year to pay the rising educational bill, the decision of the village commission to object forcibly and to suggest a plan to reduce the annual educational burden will be widely acclaimed, we are certain.

By unanimous agreement, the commission has embarked on two separate and distinct programs in an effort to alleviate the educational burden.

Saanich Vote Seen On Hall Extension

Indications point to a referendum in Saanich this spring on council scheme to take $95,000 from the tax sale lands fund for start on a $250,000 municipal hall addition.

Reve Arthur Ash is alone in insisting the ratepayers be given an opportunity to decide. Permission must be obtained from the lieutenant-governor in council to make such transfer of funds.

On inquiry to the municipal affairs minister Wesley Black, the reeve Thursday obtained a reply which satisfied him the cabinet would order a referendum.

In view of the money involved and the seeming uncertainty of the ratepayers' attitude, "it may well be the cabinet will order that any by-law presented receive the assent of the electors," the minister said. Council has already authorized a go-ahead on preliminary plans, assuming the ratepayers assented to the hall addition in a December referendum. The $250,000 estimated cost was "pulled from a hat," according to investigating committee chairman Joseph Casey, who has consulted with architects and produced a sketch of plans.

Victorian New President Of Druggists

David Allen of McGill and Orme Ltd. has been elected president of the South Vancouver Island Pharmacists' Association. Others elected at a recent annual meeting were John Weicker, vice-president; Miss Marjorie Siddall, secretary, and R. V. Jenkins, treasurer. Committee chairmen are J. E. Smith, Ross Noel, Jerry Walkey and Jim Sharp. Plans were made for organization of druggists in the Greater Victoria "Opeation Polio" in May. Registration cards will go on sale to the public Monday.

Chamber Leaders Back New Station

Directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Friday to support the application of radio station CFAX for a licence to broadcast on 1,000 watts from a transmitter in the Saanich area.

Roy Parrett, representing the proposed "good music" station, said that his application, to come before the Board of Transport Commissioners in Ottawa next Wednesday, would be opposed by local stations CKDA and CJVI.

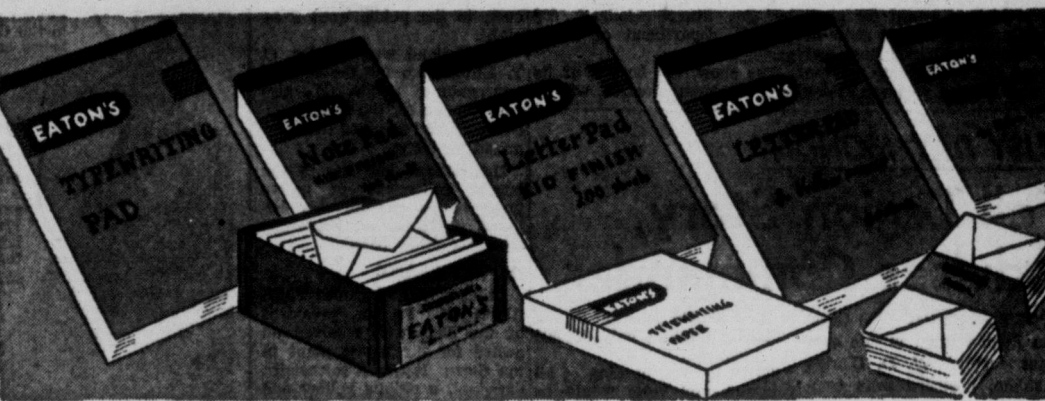

Speaking in favor of the application were chamber directors M. Aubrey Kent and Stuart Keate.

"Presumably this new station will compete with newspapers for the advertising dollar, but we will support the application," Mr. Keate said. "It's a free society and the backers of CFAX are prepared to take the gamble."

City Geologist Top Winner In Big Garden Society Show

The highest award for plant exhibits at the annual show of the Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Garden Society at the Crystal Garden was won Friday by Dr. Stuart Holland, 608 Transit, department of mines geologist.

BUSY DAY MONDAY

Tell Legion Story, Advises Commander

PORT ALBERNI—The Canadian Legion often is "its own worst enemy," W. D. Clarke, Nanaimo, northern zone commander for the Legion, said at a luncheon meeting here Friday.

"I'm not suggesting that we should boast about the work we do for our members," he said, "but we should tell more people about our accomplishments over the years."

The Legion is a far greater power in the nation than most people realize," Mr. Clarke said.

CARRY WEIGHT

"We carry a great weight in provincial and dominion circles," he claimed.

Speaking in connection with the annual Legion Week drive for members, Mr. Clarke said Alberni city councils.

open to the public until 9 to night.

Dr. Holland won the Dr. C. T. Hilton Cup for the highest aggregate of points. He also won the cup for the best rhododendrons and received two first prizes for ferns.

Dr. Holland has one of the largest collections of native ferns in his garden. He collected the ferns on numerous mineral-finding trips.

RAREST PLANT

Other winners included V. W. Ahler, 1233 Palmer, president of the club, who received an award for the rarest plant in the show. It was a colcolaira darwini, a unique yellow and maroon-colored plant from the Falkland Islands.

E. H. Lohbrunner, 1011 Lohbrunner, was awarded the trophy for the most outstanding plant suitable for a rock garden and the best North American plant.

The prize entries were a yellow cytisus demissus from Mount Olympus, Greece—a type of broom, and a cypridium calceolus parviflorus, a species of lady's slipper found in the Yukon.

J. W. Forer, 1237 Palmer, won first prize for the best plant of primula polyanthus.

NO EASY STREET

In discussing recent pension claims by the Dominion Command, Mr. Clarke said the desire of the Legion is not to see all veterans living on "easy street."

"All we are asking for veterans is a pension large enough to give them a reasonable existence," he said.

Special guests at the luncheon included Tom Barnett, MP for Comox-Alberni; John Squire, Alberni-MLA; and representatives from Alberni and Port Alberni city councils.

Diefenbaker Promises Labor 'New Deal'

Moves Into Quebec For Major Speech

NEWCASTLE, Ont. (CP) — Progressive Conservative Leader John Diefenbaker Friday night promised a revision of the federal labor code and an investigation into farm prices as he prepared to move into Quebec for the third day of his cross-country federal election campaign.

He spoke in this village east of Toronto after making a "tea and cakes" tour through the Niagara Peninsula.

Tonight he will make a major address at Quebec City, in the province where his party possesses only four of the 75 federal seats.

Mr. Diefenbaker said a Conservative government would eliminate prolonged delays in labor conciliation procedure and provide legislation for minimum wages, hours of labor and vacations with pay for all workers. Unemployment insurance benefits would be broadened.

FLEXIBLE PRICE SUPPORTS

His party's agriculture program he said, would include a system of flexible price supports, aggressive salesmanship around the world for Canadian farm products and an early Commonwealth trade conference.

The Opposition leader promised an immediate investigation into the difference between prices paid by consumers and those received by farmers. Between 1951 and 1955, he said, the farmer's share of the consumer price dollar dropped from 59 cents to 51 cents.

'MYSTERY' RCN GUNFIRE STARTLES VICTORIANS

Exaggerated by atmospheric conditions, night firing practice by units of the RCN Pacific Command Friday boomed across Juan de Fuca Strait, and started a flood of inquiries from disturbed citizens.

Dampness of the air enabled the sound to carry clearly from the firing area, in the vicinity of the San Juan Islands.

The navy termed the firing "night illumination exercises." Star shells were used.

Firing was carried out about 11 p.m. by the frigates HMC Ships Sussexvale and Ste. Therese. Flares were dropped by aircraft at 10 p.m. from the RCN Patricia Bay Squadron, VU 33.

Ships were bound for Seattle on a weekend training cruise with reserve personnel from HMCS Malahat aboard.

The firing promoted a real mystery for several hours during the night because navy sources at first said it was not being done by Canadian ships. However, later they explained that the shooting was a routine exercise announced in naval orders several weeks ago.

Pipeline Purchase Proposed by CCF

Purchase of the Westcoast Transmission Co. natural gas pipeline by the government-owned B.C. Power Commission was called for by the provincial CCF executive Friday at the party's annual convention.

Urging firmer government control of natural resources, the executive recommended that the Power Commission be strengthened to make it the province's principal power agency.

The executive said the future of the Columbia, Fraser and Yukon Rivers and their headwaters should be determined jointly "by B.C., Canadian and American governments through a general agreement for the use of the waters, and not dealt with piecemeal."

A better forest management program in the province was also demanded.

SPLIT EXPECTED

Divisions in party thinking were expected to appear today at the convention when resolutions critical of the new Winnipeg Declaration came up for consideration.

Representatives of the strong leftist faction within the party are asking in resolutions a return to the pure Socialism of the 1933 Regina Manifesto.

The Friday evening sessions was given over to addresses by three federal CCF members: Colin Cameron (Nanaimo), Herbert Herring (Kootenay West) and Thomas Barnett (Comox-Alberni).

Each of the MPs gave their support to one or another Liberal government project or policy.

Mr. Cameron, speaking on external affairs, said the CCF was in agreement with the for-

HIRED GUNMAN TO DO JOB

Psychiatrist Reneges On Self-Murder Plot

DETROIT (AP) — A fantastic plot was described to police Friday night by a Detroit psychiatrist who said he hired a gunman to kill him and then called the deal off.

Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber said the man Dr. C. L. R. Pearman hired to slay him was an undercover patrolman assigned to the case.

Dr. Pearman, former resident in psychiatry at Wayne County (Detroit) General Hospital, was taken into custody at a reserve officers' party at the Grosse Ile naval air station after failing to keep the appointment in his office in a downtown Detroit building.

Garber and Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins quoted Dr. Pearman as saying: "I was despondent when I arranged the plot. I felt I had nothing to live for. This afternoon I changed my mind. So I kept away from my office."

Garber described the story as "the most fantastic I've ever heard."

He said it began Tuesday when Pearman asked a night club attendant to provide him with a killer.

"He must be an ex-convict, a Negro, and must know his business," Garber quoted Pearman as saying. Pearman is white.

River Ravages 2,500 Homes In Texas City

DALLAS, Texas (UP) — The rampaging Trinity River rolled into the homes of 2,500 persons here today.

Nine days of almost unparalleled bad weather continued without a break. A tornado destroyed a barn and ripped down half a mile of power lines at Robstown, Texas, west of Corpus Christi on the coast.

Thunderstorms, floods and tornadoes have killed at least 10 persons in Texas in the last nine days and have caused millions of dollars' worth of damage. Agricultural damage alone was estimated at between 25 and 30 million dollars.

The Trinity, normally a placid stream that a man can wade across, was 40 feet deep today but was expected to begin receding by nightfall.

Syrian Troops Quitting Jordan

Long Convoys Seen on Roads

Syrian troops have begun moving out of Jordan, travellers arriving at Beirut, Lebanon, reported today. Long convoys of tanks, trucks, armored cars and anti-aircraft guns were seen on roads leading north from Jordan to Syria.

The convoys included one of three Syrian regiments which have been stationed in Jordan since last October's Israeli attack on Egypt.

It was not known whether other units would follow.

Meanwhile advance units of the United States 6th Fleet have reached East Mediterranean waters, informed sources in Cyprus said.

In Jordan, the firmly established pro-western government announced that military courts will try persons accused of plotting against King Hussein and the country.

Cairo radio said 964 persons, including former premier Nubari, had been arrested since martial law was imposed.

U.S. Denies Russ Warning Note

Other developments included: Cairo and Moscow radios stepped up their propaganda barrage against King Hussein. Moscow Radio accused him of collaborating with "American imperialism." Cairo Radio was equally critical.

The Egyptian newspaper Al Gomhouria said the Soviet government had sent President Eisenhower a note warning against intervention in Jordan. But at the vacation White House in Augusta, Ga., presidential press secretary James Hagerty denied that any such note had been received, "either in the White House or the Department of State."

While the fear of Jordan dismemberment had abated in western capitals, special interest centred on a meeting at Mecca among King Saud of Saudi Arabia, Syrian President Shukri El Kuwattly and Wing Commander Ali Sabri, chief political adviser to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Saud had been a firm supporter of King Hussein, along with Hussein's cousin in the Hashemite dynasty, King Feisal of Iraq. One report said Saud had wired congratulations to Hussein.

In Amman, the Jordan capital, where the situation was reported quiet, a number of Jordanian Communists had fled over the border to Israel to escape punishment in the wake of King Hussein's martial law decree. An Israeli spokesman denied the report.

In Asmara, Ethiopia, U.S. roving ambassador James Richards leaves Sunday for Bonn and a meeting with U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

LONDON (Reuters)—Tottenham Hotspur defeated Blackpool 2-1 today to clinch second place in the First Division of the English Soccer League on the last Saturday of the season.

Manchester United, which clinched the league title earlier, won its next-to-last game of a triumphant season 3-2 over lowly Cardiff. Next week, United meets Aston Villa in the finals of the Football Association Cup, English soccer's world series, in an attempt to capture a rare double crown.

Preston North End blanked Chelsea 1-0 to be certain of third position.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Dear Lord, source of all life, I look up to Thee for this day's needs. Make me sufficient for life's sudden demands, an upset in plans, a shattering disappointment, the onrush of temptation, the swift rise and fall of fortune. Having begun this day with Thee, may I keep all channels open for the tides of spiritual power so that I might at all times be steady and unafraid, in Christ's name. Amen.

Kogan Performance Confirms Rumor

By HUMPHRY DAVY

Brahms violin concerto published in 1878 is a good example of what time will do for music. When the work was first released by the composer, soloists fought shy of it. It was dubbed a concerto too difficult for violinists to perform.

Today this work stands in modern popular favor with the concertos of Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Elgar and Sibelius. Every skilled soloist now includes it in his repertoire.

This brings up the question of whether soloists today are more competent or confident than their counterparts three generations ago. Brahms concerto is not an easy piece to perform but not beyond the reach of highly trained musicians. If records had been perfected 60 years ago, it would have been possible to make a comparison.

orchestra should sound like on a record, an Angel recording of Sibelius symphony No. 1, is a first-class example. Here is sound faithfully reproduced—as good as it can be on vinylite.

Conductor of the symphony is Paul Kletzki, who recently made a series of recordings of the symphonies of Schumann. The conductor tackles this work with gusto—he makes the music glow.

This, incidentally, is a good symphony to start with for anyone not too familiar with the works of the composer. After a few hearings of this work, you will want to try his other symphonies.

POPS LIBRARY
"Manhattan Monodrama" is a serious work by the young pianist-composer, Alonzo Levister. It is a seemingly discordant tone poem about Harlem and serves as a bridge between avant-garde jazz and chamber music.

Selected singles—"In My Own Little Corner," by Peggy King (Columbia), "Hard Head," by Jon Thomas (Mercury), "The True Story of Jesse James," by Frank Gorshin (Liberty) and "My Love Song" and "Ring-a-Ding-a-Ding" by Tommy Sands (Capitol).

Calypto of the week—"Goom-bay," a dozen calypso songs recorded by Beacham Cookley's Emerald Beach Hotel in Nassau (Decca). Recommended to calypso fans.

Having completed his 16th annual tour of the U.S., Claudio Arrau, pianist, is touring Europe. This year he plans to play in Spain for the first time in 20 years—one concert, in Barcelona, May 6.

HANS GRUBER CONDUCTS

Defiant Dedicated Toscanini Outwitted Fascist Mandate

On March 25, Arturo Toscanini would have been 90 years old. His recent death brought to a close a conducting career without parallel. It spanned a full 60 years, during which Toscanini became a living legend. Purely musically, he was the most discussed and influential conductor for decades.

More recently, to this was added the fact that he also became something of a physical phenomenon, retaining his full capacities and activities until the age of 87, when, much against his will, he was made to retire, officially. Unofficially, he continued conducting the NBC Symphony Orchestra for nearly another year, subjecting himself to the strenuous recording sessions.

World famous he has long been, as mentioned. Yet, curiously, that unquestioned supremacy ascribed him originated not in Europe, but in America, where he began his continuous symphonic activities at the age of 70. In Europe, he was by many regarded as no more than an authority on Italian opera, and an evil-tempered one at that! In the classic symphonic literature he was unfavorably compared—wrongly so, in my opinion—with Furtwaengler.

Only Non-German at Bayreuth

There was a time when but one unfilled ambition remained to him: namely, to conduct at the Wagner Festival in Bayreuth. In 1932, he became the first and only non-German conductor to be invited personally by Wagner's widow to conduct at Bayreuth. What happened that season at Bayreuth became musical history.

The invitation was repeated in 1933, when, however, Toscanini went to Bayreuth only long enough to tell Cosima Wagner that he would not be available in Germany so long as Hitler was around.

This was but one measure of Toscanini's character; years before he had already suffered physical violence at the hands of Fascist hoodlums for refusing to conduct the Giovezza, the Fascist anthem which replaced the original Italian one. In 1930, when Toscanini took the then incomparable New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra on a European concert tour, he again declined to open the Rome concert with the Giovezza.

All done with the light-hearted understatement the British are past masters at. A real inspiration. Portrayed by the most perfectly cast Kenneth More, it provides unalloyed entertainment for the whole family. What better way to celebrate the anniversary of "St. George for Merry England" than to bring them all to witness one of Britain's most outstanding films of the year. MUSIC FESTIVAL

Program Planning Guarantees Interest

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

For any person who is at all interested in music, dance and the speech arts, the Greater Victoria Music Festival, scheduled to be held May 7 to 15, offers much pleasure, much information and even a likely percentage of "thrills."

There are often performances that go far beyond expectation, or close and stimulating contests. Humorous incidents, words of wisdom, new listening experiences, are daily occurrences at almost any session.

From a few people who have not visited a festival in more recent years, one hears the complaint that multiple repetitions of the same set piece by young candidates, kills interest through boredom. But even this complaint is largely eliminated now because of the policy of allowing "own selections" in many classes. In junior piano, suites of small pieces are set and the competitor may perform any two or three as the case may be.

Evening programs this year will be held at the United Church Fellowship Hall on Balmoral Road, with exception of the final grand concert and the folk dance display which are to be given at Central Junior High School.

VARIETY
A typical evening program will include "sing-offs" of two or three competitors from important vocal solo classes; senior piano class finals and top choral contests.

Special programs are folk dance finals on the evening of Wednesday, May 8, at Central Junior High School; honor performances by leading school choirs on Friday evening, May 10, and the final concert, May 15, when B.C. Electric rose-bowl vocalist and Victoria City medallion piano winner will be judged.

All in all, it strikes me that no musically-inclined person could possibly get more for the expenditure of a couple of hundred pennies than the owner of a festival season ticket does.

TRICKLES AWAY
Any time you go down town you can fritter away that much and have nothing even mildly worthwhile to show for it. If you think about it you'll see what I mean—two bits for a bunch of daffs that will have gone into limbo day after tomorrow; a dime here and there for an ice cream, soft drink or chocolate bar that are in your mouth a couple of minutes and on your hips a couple of months.

Probably four to six bits for some gadget or novelty that you don't need and will have lost interest in almost as soon as you get it home.

How much better to pour those loose pennies into a solid little investment that will enrich your experience at the same time that it helps the young and the gifted members of this community.

Construction Boom Brightens U.S. Business

By WALTER BREEDER, JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—First signs of a spring-time boom in heavy construction brightened the United States business scene this week.

Delayed in many parts of the country by rain and cold, the biggest road building program in history finally was getting under way.

There were other massive projects, ranging from hospitals, churches, schools and office buildings to oil pipelines, waterworks and sewers.

Stepped-up spending on heavy construction was counted upon to offset the continuing lag in demand for houses, textiles, appliances and cars.

Still waiting for signs of a spring upturn this week were producers of steel, non-ferrous metals, lumber, paperboard and oil.

Productions of the steelmakers, however, were on the optimistic side.

Both Bethlehem and Youngstown were well on their way to a record earnings year. Each reported new highs in profits for the first quarter.

Also reporting impressive first-quarter gains were the major oil companies: Standard of New Jersey's earnings for the period were up 15 per cent from a year ago.

Teneco reported a 23 1/2 per cent rise, Gulf a 30 per cent increase. Behind the sensational profit performance was the Suez Canal crisis—when Europe could not get its normal quota of Middle East crude, it bought higher priced oil in the United States.

First quarter earnings reports of the "big three" automakers proved what previous sales figures had indicated for some time—Chrysler Corporation, with its swept-wing, fin-tailed models, had been stepping ahead at a brisk pace than its two big competitors, General Motors and Ford.

While Ford's first quarter earnings climbed 11.3 per cent, and General Motors' net dropped 7 1/2 per cent, Chrysler's profit shot up for a gain of more than 300 per cent.

Chrysler Outpacing Car Rivals

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corp., smallest of the automobile industry's "big three," stepped ahead faster than either of its larger competitors in the race for sales and profits in the first three months this year.

Earnings mounted to $46,545,321 or $5.34 a share—highest for any first quarter in Chrysler history and more than four times the $10,905,722, or $1.25 a share, earned in the first three months last year.

Sales jumped to $1,150,723,712, a record for any quarter, and topped the year-to-date total of $742,343,267 by 35 per cent.

The gains compared with a modest advance in sales and a 7 1/2 per cent dip in profits reported by General Motors Corp. earlier this week. Chrysler's other "big three" rival, Ford Motor Co., scored a 30.5 per cent increase in its first-quarter sales and an 11.3 per cent rise in earnings.

Mistrial Declared In Negligence Case

VANCOUVER—Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane declared a mistrial Friday in the case of Joseph Horace Daigneault, 39, charged with criminal negligence in the traffic death of Mrs. Concettina Di Palma, 58, Feb. 18.

World Wheat Surge Predicted By Grain Experts

By SYDNEY GAMPEL
LONDON (Reuters)—Grain experts here expressed fears today that world competition in wheat supplies, already affecting producing countries such as Australia and Canada, will become even heavier.

Sir John Teasdale, chairman of the Australian wheat board, has complained this week that, with shrinking world markets, Australian wheat faces its worst marketing troubles since the pre-war depression years. Gloomy views have also come from Canada and from the Organization for European Economic Co-operation.

British wheat traders commented today that it is much easier to pose the problem than to know what to do about it. Because of the internal farm policies in many exporting and importing countries, wheat has become a political market.

CAN'T MATCH U.S. TERMS
Any country that has to compete in it on a strictly business basis is gravely handicapped. In particular, no other country can afford to match the terms on which the United States is willing to export its huge accumulated surplus.

In the adverse circumstances, Canada's and Australia's exports have kept up better than might have been expected. Unfortunately, three important influences which helped them last year are turning against them in the coming year.

Years of drought in the main United States wheat belt have been succeeded this spring by abundant and occasionally excessive rains. Thanks to the operation of the agriculture department's soil bank the area under wheat in the United States is the smallest for many years. But thanks to the rains, the small area may yield too big a harvest.

The second influence is Suez. European and other importing countries stocked up heavily during the Suez scare in the commodity and freight markets. Having done so, they can partly live on the stocks instead of fully replacing them by new imports.

The third influence is that in Europe, especially France, the poor harvest of last year has been succeeded by the promise of a good harvest this year. If the promise materializes, France will have more wheat to sell, and other European countries will have less need to buy.

NEW TYPE BANK ACCOUNT

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram says a new type of optional account, different from savings or current accounts, will be set up by Canadian chartered banks June 1.

The paper says the new system will probably be called a personal chequing account. No interest will be paid on deposits, but service charges on cheques cashed will be reduced to 10 cents per cheque from the present 15 cents.

$5 MILLION COMINCO PLANT FOR KIMBERLEY

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Province says Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. will launch its steel and pig iron industry at Kimberley at once, but a year will probably elapse before tenders are called for the $5,000,000 mill and production cannot begin until about October, 1959.

The paper quoted Cominco vice-president, R. D. Perry, as saying: "We are aiming for the coast" as a major market. "You have rolling mills there. We have the materials to build as fast as the market expands."

Announcement that a start would be made came Thursday from Cominco president, R. E. Stavert, at the shareholders' annual meeting in Montreal.

Imperial Oil Earnings Up 12.3% in First Quarter

TORONTO—Shareholders attending Imperial Oil's annual meeting here Friday learned that sales and earnings are running well ahead of last year. But that the company is concerned over the extent to which economies achieved by the oil industry "are largely obscured by mounting taxes."

J. R. White, president, reported that earnings for the first quarter of 1957 were $21,600,000 (68 cents per share). This was 12.3 per cent higher than 1956 first quarter earnings of $19,200,000, equivalent to 64 cents per share on the smaller number of shares outstanding last year.

Reasons for the increased earnings, he said, were to be found in sales, refinery runs, and production figures for the quarter. Product sales were up 13.6 per cent. Refinery crude runs were up 16 per cent. Crude oil production of 105,776 barrels a day were 673 barrels more than in the first quarter of 1956.

Product improvement required substantial outlays, he said, to raise the quality of the company's 1957 gasoline output in line with a single year's increase in motor requirements involves an outlay of $20,000,000. Mr. White said that despite recent increases in crude oil and product prices, Canadian crude today is less than one per cent higher than in 1953. The average increase in wholesale gasoline prices is less than one per cent above 1953. In the same period the company's cost for equipment, materials and supplies have increased 20 to 29 per cent.

It was noted by executive vice-president W. O. Twilts that, in addition to $82,000,000 of taxes charged against the company's income last year, Imperial acted as a collector of road taxes and other direct levies totalling $95,000,000.

"The total of all these taxes, $177 million, was equivalent to 13 cents per imperial gallon on total sales volume," he said. "Whereas net earnings from all sources, including oil production, refining, marketing, and transportation equalled only 1.9 cents per imperial gallon."

Canadian Markets Decline For First Time in 5 Weeks

By RON ANDREWS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canadian stock markets were hit by profit-taking this week and the four-week advance ended as prices eased in light trading.

All sections felt the pinch of selling for profits which had built up during the previous month. On the Toronto Stock Exchange, which was open for only four days, industrials led the decline.

Observers said the setback was a natural reaction. They said in almost all instances of an extended rise, prices ultimately settle down in the midst of the climb while short-term investors cleaned up on the higher prices.

While New York and Montreal recorded moderate rallies Monday, the Toronto traders were enjoying an extended Easter holiday. Activity on the TSE Tuesday, however, made up for the one-day loss of action and one of the heaviest turnovers of the year was recorded.

During the following three days, trading slowed down completely as the Middle East crisis heightened and investors scurried to the sidelines.

Western oils took a sharp decline Thursday after reports that President Eisenhower had suggested that United States' imports of foreign oil be reduced.

The full impact of profit-taking wasn't felt until Friday, when all sections took sharp losses.

Despite the loss on the industrial index for the week, the section reached a 1957 high at noon Thursday. The advance was wiped out, however, in the selling spree Friday.

Steels were relatively stronger, led by Algoma, although it showed little change following a sharp loss Friday by Page-Hersey tubes and Aluminum. Utilities were actively traded but banks and manufacturing issues were quiet and easier.

MINES DRAGGED
The mining list had little noteworthy news to offer, dragging itself through one of the most listless periods in weeks.

The trading pace at Toronto was one of the slowest of the year, despite the heavy turnover Tuesday. Sales for the week totalled 23,616,000 shares compared with 25,805,000 the previous week, which also had only four sessions.

Index changes at Montreal: banks off 0.20 to 52.15; utilities off 0.5 to 147.14; industrials up 1.5 to 289.6; combined up 0.9 to 242.2; papers off 5.81 to 1305.32; golds up 3.4 to 80.76.

Week's volumes: 324,150 industrials and 2,885,126 mines compared with 310,655 industrials and 2,294,907 mines the previous week. Of 421 issues traded, 146 advanced, 140 declined and 135 were unchanged.

Botanists Excited Over Finding Of Rare Star-Shaped Flowers

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Strange star-shaped fungi flowers, sparkling like jewels against the forest floor, were discovered this week at Ten Mile Point by three members of the Natural History Society.

C. Melburn, Miss Leila Roberts and Miss J. Brenton, who were searching for plants in a small private woodland park, near Tudor Road, owned by P. A. B. Mel.

They were found by Miss M. Melburn, a keen botanist, suspected the plants were unusual and collected them for identification by Dr. Adam Szczawinski, provincial botanist.

"I'm not quite sure what they are," said Dr. Szczawinski, "but I'm certain they are rare—so rare that none have ever been found in British Columbia."

He described the fungi-flowers by the tongue-twisting name of "sarcosphaera coronaria."

The plants today were sent to the University of British Columbia for further study by botanists.

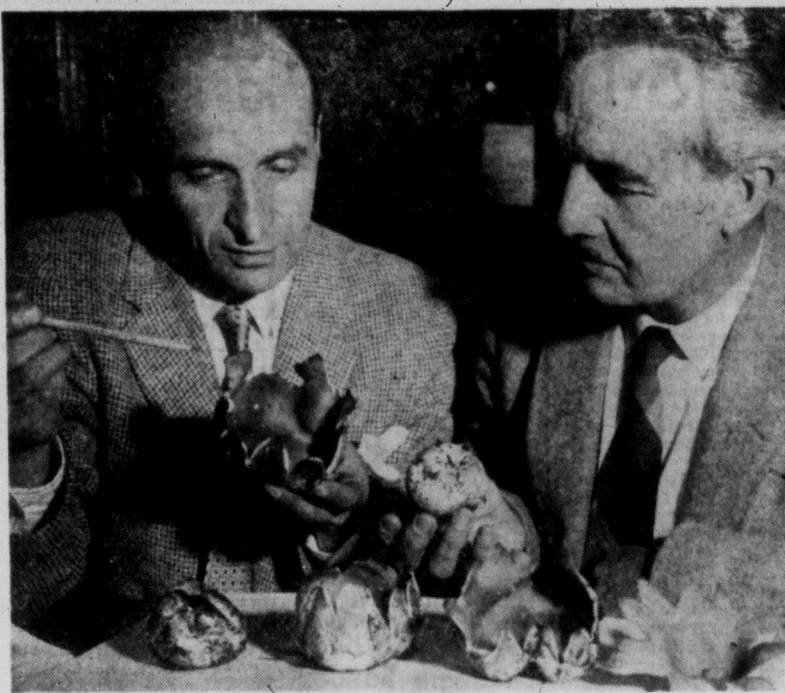

They are odd plants. In their initial stages they are like puff-balls—some as large as a soft-ball. Then they will suddenly open into a beautiful star-shaped flower.

This species of fungi has been giving scientists the merry-go-round for years. Records show that its shy and elusive plant, rarely seen more than once in a lifetime. It occurs and then disappears, perhaps reappearing 20 or 30 years later at some other locality.

A few specimens of this species have been found only in Oregon and California.

The plants are expected to arouse the interest of botanists in both Canada and the United States as little is known of their habits and chemical compositions. It's the type of plant which scientists are always searching for but never can find.

It has no common name but the few people who saw the flowers Thursday dubbed them "jewels of the woods."

STRANGE FUNGI being examined by Prof. Lewis J. Clark of Victoria College (right), and Dr. Adam Szczawinski, provincial botanist, may be major botanical discovery for province. Fungi first grows into large ball and then opens into mauve star-like flowers (extreme right). They were collected by Miss M. C. Melburn, 2397 Heron, in a woodland part at Ten Mile Point.

Price Boost For Beer Predicted

Possibility of a boost in the price of beer by the glass was forecast here today by James Neely, president, Hotel Inkeepers' Association of British Columbia.

"We are beginning to feel we are not getting sufficient revenue from investment," in the face of mounting labor and operating costs, he said.

No decision has yet been made among local hotel operators, although there has been discussion of the beer price increase.

"Some relief will have to come," said Mr. Neely.

Executive secretary of the B.C. Hotels Association, E. V. F. Ely, Vancouver, said today an increase in the price of a glass of beer is "inevitable" in B.C.

Some hotel operators feel the new price should be 15 cents a glass, or two glasses for 25 cents, following the pattern set in Prince Rupert where seven hotel operators Friday announced they were boosting beer prices following a wage increase for employees.

Cecil Horn, business agent for local 513, B.C. Hotels and Beverage Dispensers Union, said he heard of no discussion concerning the suggested price boost.

NEGOTIATING
His union is now in the process of negotiations with the hotel men.

Mr. Ely said the B.C. Liquor Act does not stipulate draft beer prices, but "it has always been the policy to inform the Liquor Control Board chairman of proposed increases and get the acquiescence of the LCB."

Board chairman Col. Donald McGugan said he had received no word of beer price increases and declined comment.

PARK PLAN CENTENARY PROJECT

Centennial committee of Swartz Bay, Deep Cove, and Patricia Bay has decided on preparation of a recreation park as its permanent centennial project.

Seven acres of cleared land extending from Birch Road to Wains Road have been promised, and the committee is starting right now to raise the $1,500 it will need by March 31, 1958, to secure the land as a public park in perpetuity.

Arrangements have been made for donations to the park fund to be left at Canoe Cove Store, Sidney Cold Storage, Deep Cove Store, and Madrona Store. Any member of the district centennial committee also is authorized to accept any donations.

The park will provide space for a picnic ground, croquet, horseshoe pitching, lawn bowls, softball, tennis, and other recreational activities.

Seaman Fined In Fire Truck Collision

Naval seaman, Floyd Dick, HMCS Sioux, was fined a total $100 in city police court today on charges of driving while suspended and leaving the scene of an accident after his car was heavily damaged in collision with a fire truck Friday night.

Police arrested him at about 2:30 a.m. today at 1441 Elford, more than three hours after the accident at Pandora and Douglas where his old model car smashed head-on into a fire truck answering an alarm.

The fire truck was not damaged and proceeded to a car fire at Pandora and Cook.

Dick told firemen he was going to make a telephone call, but did not re-appear at the accident scene.

He pleaded guilty in court to both charges and was fined $50 on each.

Driver of the fire truck was William Hamilton, 1336 Emerson. He was proceeding east on Pandora and Dick was driving west at about 11:16 p.m.

MONTE ROBERTS

OUR VERY OWN ISLAND DIGEST

SOMEWHERE UP-ISLAND (Special to the Times)—Representatives of progressive Island communities met here Friday night to discuss a joint centennial project.

The feeling of the meeting was expressed by Mayor Abner Goon, of Goon Centre, when he referred to the provincial government's per capita grant for a centennial project.

"If we all get together, we will have more per capita," stated Mayor Goon.

"The more capita we have, the more we will get from the government," he explained.

The meeting voted unanimously to get more from the government.

Lem Fuddnik of Luncville sounded a note of warning when he said he doubted they could get more from the government, no matter how many capita were per capita-ed.

"The government is so used to getting more from us, it will be hard for it to do a turn-about," he said.

However, the rest of the meeting said Lem was nothing but a pessimist, and the business of the evening went on while Lem went down to the pool hall to borrow a dictionary and find out what pessimist means.

Main discussion at the meeting centred around the form a joint project should take.

Seven progressive Island communities were represented at the meeting, and there was a remarkable unanimity of opinion on what form the centennial project should take.

Only six different ideas were presented to the meeting. Wallopem Beach abstaining, this being the off-season, like.

Discussion was carried on in a very friendly vein, the only casualty being Mayor Abner Goon, who ventured to state the proposal of Mrs. Abner Goon was complete balderdash and tommy-rot.

He is expected to be up and around in time for the centennial, if all goes well.

Lem Fuddnik, when he returned from the pool hall after looking pessimist up in the dictionary, said if the government was going to buy something expensive for the centennial project, he would just as soon take the money.

This suggestion was greeted with a round of applause. The meeting then adjourned after deciding to have another meeting, sometime, somewhere, to discuss how to spend the money.

Meanwhile, a standing committee was appointed to count the per capita.

Ferry Runs Suspended After Crash

Tenders for repairs to CPSS Princess Joan, damaged in an early-morning collision near Sidney Friday, were to be opened in Vancouver this afternoon as the PCR announced schedule changes made necessary by the accident.

Repairs are expected to take four to five days.

Tenders for repairs were called by the company which holds the insurance on the ship.

A CPR spokesman said today he did not anticipate an enquiry involving the Department of Transport.

NEGOTIATIONS
"It is likely the matter will be settled by negotiation between our insurance company and the owners of the other ship involved," he said.

The accident occurred in a heavy fog, when the prow of the Japanese freighter Tataka Maru, bound from Vancouver for Seattle, sliced into the Joan on the port side about 30 feet aft of the bow.

A gaping, wedge-shaped hole about 20 feet long and in some places three feet wide was torn in the steel plating, well above the water line.

Princess Marguerite was taken out of refit Friday to take over the Joan's sailings, but some cancellations of service were necessary.

CANCELLED
Following are services which have been cancelled:

Midnight run, Vancouver-Victoria, Sunday; midnight sailings, Victoria-Vancouver, tonight and Monday.

Three round trips between Victoria and Port Angeles Monday have also been suspended.

The Port Angeles service, however, will open Sunday with all scheduled trips to be operated.

Vancouver to Nanaimo sailings at 9 a.m. Sunday and Tuesday, will be cancelled, as will the scheduled Nanaimo-Vancouver trips at 1 p.m. Sunday and Tuesday.

Saanich firemen extinguished a small blaze of undetermined origin at 12:17 p.m. Friday in an equipment storage shed at Braefoot Park. Inside of the building was scorched.

Inter-denominational council for alcohol research and education will meet at First Baptist Church next Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

In Oak Bay court Friday: Allan Morris Haskin, 1325 Fort, $35 for careless driving. In Colwood RCMP court Friday:

Norman Douglas Craig, Work Point, $15 and $5.50 costs for failing to report an accident.

Gordon Smith, 899 Craigflower, $35 and $3 costs for careless driving.

Travers George Musgrave Custance, 3451 Shelbourne, $25 and $3 costs, and James Kenneth Sturrock, 229 Helmcken, $15 and $3 costs for speeding over 50 and over 30 respectively.

Douglas Joseph White, 591 Ker, $25 and $3 costs for driving unaccompanied by an adult licence-holder while a learner.

One of the two Coast Ferries Ltd. ships operating on Brentwood-Mill Bay run will be out of service for several days while repairs are carried out on a two-by-three-foot hole in her hull.

The ferry, the Brentwood, struck a hidden rock near Canoe Cove late Friday night, on her way from refit in Victoria Harbor to resume her regular run.

The craft was beached, later pumped out and towed to Point Hope Shipyard by Island Tug & Barge Ltd.

A Coast Ferries spokesman said repairs would be made as quickly as possible.

Until the Brentwood is back in service, the other ferry—the Mill Bay—will operate an hourly service, leaving Brentwood on the hour and Mill Bay on the half-hour.

Salubrious climate and scenery of course still are central factors behind Victoria's attraction for residents of the flat country where winters are long and frigid and summers short and blistering.

"When you've lived in a country where the temperature often goes down to 50 below zero and even as low as 72 below, Victoria's pleasant mean temperature sure feels comfortable," Mr. Zabel reminisced.

"The prairie is a hard country. It's for young people with plenty of push, but when you get older life becomes rugged there."

Recalling his own experience as a typical example, Mr. Zabel said that after 32 years in the automobile business in the Peace River country he began to look around for another place to live.

"My wife and I visited a lot of places. When we came to Victoria I was impressed by the absence of screens on doors and windows. There

CITY BUDGET DOWN FRIDAY; 2-3 1/2 MILL BOOST EXPECTED

Victoria city 1957 budget probably will be presented to city council next Friday and most of the following week will be taken up with attempts to shrink it.

Mayor Percy Scourrah today pledged his council to "hold the line as far as possible without cutting services too much."

A mill rate increase of from two to three and a half mills is anticipated.

GRANDSON OF SASQUATCH

Songhees Hunting For 'Sasquit'

A band of Songhees braves today left for the interior of Vancouver Island to search for the grandson of a hairy Sasquatch reported to be living in a deep valley west of Cowichan Lake.

Chief Percy Ross said the braves will invite the son of the giant for the big Vancouver Island Indian Festival at Maple Bank Park on May 19 and 20—one of the Island's most colorful fetes of the year.

The chief said the Indians have known for a long time that the giant's grandson lived alone in a valley but feared if they told their "white brothers" he might come to some harm.

The hairy giant, like his parents, he said, shunned people.

HOW TO FEED?
"He loves salad and salmon berries, as well as roots of plants," he said. "I'm at a loss to know how we will be able to find sufficient berries for his meals."

As for the original Sasquatches, the chief said the Indians would not be able to bring one to Victoria, except by force.

"They are fierce giants," he said, "and I would hate to try to capture one."

SECRET
"White brothers have a habit of shooting anything strange or things they don't understand," ing an overland journey to the west coast.

The chief said the Songhees band's main difficulty will be in finding the proper food to feed "Sasquit" during his stay on the Indian reserve.

Will the B.C. cabinet approve the Saanich scheme to support a centennial wing for Royal Jubilee Hospital? Will Oak Bay and Esquimalt support Saanich? Will any of the three have sufficient Centennial funds to support a worthy memorial individually?

Plans for a joint project were dropped when Victoria aldermen refused to accept the Royal Jubilee Hospital wing as a suitable memorial.

They felt the hospital wing would be built in the normal course of civic expansion and the city has already offered $125,000 to the project. Aldermen thought the centennial project should be "frosting on the cake"—something that would not be undertaken through need.

YOU SAID TO ME -

By ETHEL TULL
A Sunday message of help and comfort for those puzzled, depressed or low in spirit.

You said to me, "Is not prayer one of God's most precious gifts, together with the Practice of His Presence?"

My thought about prayer is that it is a mingling of our human nature with the divine nature of God. The great Creator reaches down, and the human heart is lifted up, and from that union is born for the human life beauty and wisdom and strength.

I have been ill, and now God is giving me new life. I look from my window, and see the plum tree in the garden bursting into bloom that is almost incredible in its beauty, and I long for the loveliness of the Spirit of God to shine through my new being.

I have been seeing beauty all around me in my time of weakness. It was in the loving, patient care of sisters and nurses and doctors in the hospital—in the forgetfulness of self in the other patients—in the friends who came to see us, and in the flowers and cards that made the room bright, and reminded us that there were those outside who thought of us and prayed for us.

Then, after the wonderful home-coming, the warmth of love there, and the visits of so many friends, and their constant thought and care for our comfort! How much beauty shone through it all, with the assurance that it was created by faithful prayer-lives, and the "practice of the Presence of God."

I have been lifted right up to God, and have seen His beauty and felt the wonder of His love. Now, after this glorious Easter time, may I learn to be so guided by His Spirit that in me, though I am old in years—there may spring up new life, and I may reflect something of the glory that I have seen.

Then you'll be on Daylight Saving Time for Sunday morning's services.

And, maybe, as you leave you'll meet some red-faced parishioner who didn't change his clock—and got to church just as the service ended.

Saanich Vote Seen On Hall Extension

Indications point to a referendum in Saanich this spring on a council scheme to take $95,000 from the tax sale lands fund for a start on a $250,000 municipal hall addition.

Reve Arthur Ash is alone in insisting the ratepayers be given an opportunity to decide.

Permission must be obtained from the lieutenant-governor in council to make such transfer of funds.

On inquiry to the municipal affairs minister Wesley Black, the reeve Thursday obtained a reply which satisfied him the cabinet would order a referendum.

In view of the money involved and the seeming uncertainty of the ratepayers' attitude, "it may well be the cabinet will order that any by-law presented receive the assent of the electors," the minister said.

Council has already authorized a go-ahead of preliminary plans, assuming the ratepayers assented to the hall addition in a December referendum.

The $250,000 estimated cost was "pulled from a hat," according to investigating committee chairman Joseph Casey, who has consulted with architects and produced a sketch of plans.

Victorian New President Of Druggists

David Allen of McGill and Orme Ltd. has been elected president of the South Vancouver Island Pharmacists' Association.

Others elected at a recent annual meeting were John Weicker, vice-president; Miss Marjorie Siddall, secretary; and R. V. Jenkin, treasurer. Committee chairmen are J. E. Smith, Ross Noel, Jerry Wulley and Jim Sharp.

Plans were made for organization of druggists in the Greater Victoria "Operation Polio" in May. Registration cards will go on sale to the public Monday.

NO ELVIS PRESLEY MUSIC

Chamber Leaders Back New Station

Directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Friday to support the application of radio station CFAX for a licence to broadcast on 1,000 watts from a transmitter in the Saanich area.

Roy Parrett, representing the proposed "good music" station, said that his application, to come before the Board of Transport Commissioners in Ottawa next Wednesday, would be opposed by local stations CKDA and CJVL.

Speaking in favor of the application were chamber directors M. Aubrey Kent and Stuart Keate.

"Presumably this new station will compete with newspapers for the advertising dollar, but we will support the application," Mr. Keate said. "It's a free society and the backers of CFAX are prepared to take the gamble."

Killed Woman To End Drug Misery

CHICAGO (AP)—A 68-year-old man won a reduction of his prison term Thursday after telling a judge he slit his goddaughter's throat when she begged him to end the misery of her drug addiction. John Costas was sentenced to seven years in prison on a charge of manslaughter. He had been sentenced to 50 years for slaying Mrs. Helen Radopoulos, 37.

Reason given for opposition, George Gregory observed, was that radio stations have difficulty attracting advertisers during the evening hours, where the trend is to TV, and CFAX is envisioned as a day-light operation only.

Mr. Parrett said that his station, unlike CKDA and CJVL, would be "omni-directional" and not confined to north and east beams.

"There is no interference problem," he added.

Director Conway Parrott asked: "Will you guarantee never to play an Elvis Presley record?"

"That's a promise," grinned Mr. Parrett.

Tell Legion Story, Advises Commander

PORT ALBERNI—The Canadian Legion often is "its own worst enemy," W. D. Clarke, Nanaimo, northern zone commander for the Legion, said at a luncheon meeting here Friday.

"I'm not suggesting that we should boast about the work we do for our members," he said, "but we should tell more people about our accomplishments over the years."

The Legion is a far greater power in the nation than most people realize," Mr. Clarke said. "We carry a great weight in provincial and dominion circles," he claimed.

Speaking in connection with the annual Legion Week drive for members, Mr. Clarke said of the 1,500,000 potential legionnaires in Canada, only 300,000 are members.

"With the full backing of all veterans, our voice would be tremendously stronger," he said.

NO EASY STREET
In discussing recent pension claims by the Dominion Command, Mr. Clarke said the desire of the Legion is not to see all veterans living on "easy street."

"All we are asking for veterans is a pension large enough to give them a reasonable existence," he said.

Special guests at the luncheon included Tom Barnett, MP for Comox-Alberni; John Squire, Alberni MLA; and representatives from Alberni and Port Alberni city councils.

Dr. Holland won the Dr. C. T. Hilton Cup for the highest aggregate of points. He also won the cup for the best rhododendrons and received two first prizes for ferns.

Dr. Holland has one of the largest collections of native ferns in his garden. He collected the ferns on numerous mineral-finding trips.

RAREST PLANT
Other winners included V. W. Ahler, 1233 Palmer, president of the club, who received an award for the rarest plant in the show. It was a colcolaira darwini, a unique yellow and maroon-colored plant from the Falkland Islands.

E. H. Lohbrunner, 1011 Lohbrunner, was awarded the trophy for the most outstanding plant suitable for a rock garden and the best North American plant.

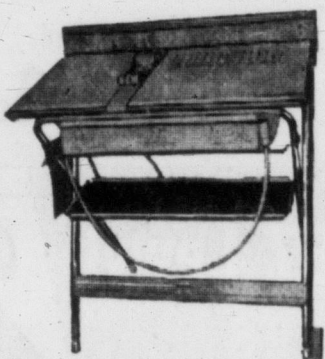

The prize entries were a yellow cytisus demissus from Mount Olympus, Greece; a type of broom, and a cypridium calceolus parviflora, a species of lady's slipper found in the Yukon.

J. W. Forer, 1237 Palmer, won first prize for the best plant of primula polyanthus.

Diefenbaker
Promises Labor
'New Deal'

Moves Into Quebec
For Major Speech

NEWCASTLE, Ont. (CP)—Progressive Conservative Leader John Diefenbaker Friday night promised a revision of the federal labor code and an investigation into farm prices as he prepared to move into Quebec for the third day of his cross-country federal election campaign.

He spoke in this village east of Toronto after making a "tea and cakes" tour through the Niagara Peninsula.

Tonight he will make a major address at Quebec City, in the province where his party possesses only four of the 75 federal seats.

Mr. Diefenbaker said a Conservative government would eliminate prolonged delays in labor conciliation procedure and provide legislation for minimum wages, hours of labor and vacations with pay for all workers. Unemployment insurance benefits would be broadened.

FLEXIBLE PRICE SUPPORTS

His party's agriculture program he said, would include a system of flexible price supports, aggressive salesmanship around the world for Canadian farm products and an early Commonwealth trade conference.

The Opposition leader promised an immediate investigation into the difference between prices paid by consumers and those received by farmers. Between 1951 and 1955, he said, the farmer's share of the consumer price dollar dropped from 39 cents to 31 cents.

HIRED GUNMAN TO DO JOB

Psychiatrist Reneges
On Self-Murder Plot

DETROIT (AP)—A fantastic plot was described to police Friday night by a Detroit psychiatrist who said he hired a gunman to kill him and then called the deal off.

Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Gerber said the man Dr. C. L. R. Pearman hired to slay him was an undercover patrolman assigned to the case.

Dr. Pearman, former resident in psychiatry at Wayne County (Detroit) General Hospital, was taken into custody at a reserve officers' party at the Grosse Ile naval air station after failing to keep the appointment in his office in a downtown Detroit building.

Garber and Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins quoted Dr. Pearman as saying: "I was despondent when I arranged the plot. I felt I had nothing to live for. This afternoon I changed my mind. So I kept away from my office."

Garber described the story as "the most fantastic I've ever heard."

He said it began Tuesday when Pearman asked a night club attendant to provide him with a killer.

"He must be an ex-convict, a Negro, and must know his business," Garber quoted Pearman as saying. Pearman is white.

The night club attendant tipped police, who assigned a patrolman to set up a meeting with Pearman.

Garber said Pearman gave the undercover agent $50, promised him $450 more when the job was done Friday afternoon.

Garber said Pearman asked the patrolman for "one bullet in the heart."

Dr. Pearman said he would ransack his office to make it appear that he had surprised a burglar at work.

When police attempted to pick Dr. Pearman up at his office Friday morning they found a note in his door reading: "Back Monday."

Garber said he would recommend a warrant charging the psychiatrist with attempted conspiracy to commit murder. Conviction could mean a five-year prison term.

Representatives of the strong leftist faction within the party control of natural resources, are asking in resolutions a return to the pure Socialism of the 1933 Regina Manifesto.

The Friday evening sessions were given over to addresses by three federal CCF members: Colin Cameron (Nanaimo), Herbert Hurd (Kootenay West) and Thomas Barnett (Comox-Alberni).

Each of the MPs gave their support to one or another Liberal government project or policy.

Mr. Cameron, speaking on external affairs, said the CCF was in agreement with the for-

South Jordan may be in trouble, but it seems things in the north ain't Syria's.

M' Uncle Zeke ain't goin' t' put his watch forward. He's goin' t' turn it back—t' th' pawnshop.

'Course, there's th' odd gardener who hopes it'll rain Sunday, so's he kin rest up last Sunday's muscles.

Syrian Troops
Start Moving Out

From United Press

Syrian troops have begun moving out of Jordan, travellers arriving at Beirut, Lebanon, reported today. Long convoys of tanks, trucks, armored cars and anti-aircraft guns were seen on roads leading north from Jordan to Syria.

The convoys included one of three Syrian regiments which have been stationed in Jordan since last October's Israeli attack on Egypt.

It was not known whether other units would follow. Meanwhile advance units of the United States 6th Fleet have reached East Mediterranean waters, informed sources in Cyprus said.

In Jordan, the firmly established pro-western government announced that military courts will try persons accused of plotting against King Hussein and the country.

Cairo radio said 964 persons, including former premier Nafisi, had been arrested since martial law was imposed.

Other developments included: Cairo and Moscow radios stepped up their propaganda barrage against King Hussein. Moscow Radio accused him of collaborating with "American imperialism." Cairo Radio was equally critical.

The Egyptian newspaper Al Gomhouria said the Soviet government had sent President Eisenhower a note warning against intervention in Jordan. But at the vacation White House in Augusta, Ga., presidential press secretary James Hagerty denied that any such note had been received, "either in the White House or the Department of State."

While the fear of Jordan dismemberment had abated in western capitals, special interest centred on a meeting at Mecca among King Saud of Saudi Arabia, Syrian President Shukri El Kuwaili and Wing Commander Ali Sabri, chief political adviser to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Saud had been a firm supporter of King Hussein, along with Hussein's cousin in the Hashemite dynasty, King Faisal of Iraq. One report said Saud had wired congratulations to Hussein.

In Amman, the Jordan capital, where the situation was reported quiet, a government spokesman said a number of Jordanian Communists had fled over the border to Israel to escape punishment in the wake of King Hussein's martial law decree. An Israeli spokesman denied the report.

In Asmara, Ethiopia, U.S. roving ambassador James Richards said the Eisenhower doctrine had overcome the threat of Communism in the Middle East, despite the flare-up in Jordan. Richards leaves Sunday for Bonn and a meeting with U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Dulles Accused Of 'Insults'

VIENNA (AP)—Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan of Russia today accused U.S. State Secretary Dulles of "insulting" the Soviet Union when Dulles suggested this week that Russian aims and proposals are propaganda inspired.

Mikoyan also said Dulles was trying to scare other countries with atomic threats and "trying to create confusion and spread misinformation" about Soviet proposals for disarmament and nuclear weapons bans.

The Soviet official spoke at a press conference shortly before flying back to Moscow after a five-day official visit to Austria. He was questioned about Dulles' press conference remarks Tuesday that the United States would welcome another conference with Russia if the Soviets showed they were sincerely "prepared to move forward" and not just gathering steam for a "new propaganda drive."

Golfers Suspended

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (CP)—Four golfers were suspended for 30 days by the U.S. Professional Golfers' Association today for unsportsmanlike conduct in the Kentucky Derby Open. They are George Beyer, Don January, Doug Higgins and Ernie Vossler.

'MYSTERY' RCN GUNFIRE
STARTLES VICTORIANS

Exaggerated by atmospheric conditions, night firing practice by units of the RCN Pacific Command Friday boomed across Juan de Fuca Strait, and started a flood of inquiries from disturbed citizens.

Dampness of the air enabled the sound to carry clearly from the firing area, in the vicinity of the San Juan Islands.

The navy termed the firing "night illumination exercises." Star shells were used.

Firing was carried out about 11 p.m. by the frigates HMC Ships Sussexvale and Ste. Therese. Flares were dropped by aircraft at 10 p.m. from the RCN Patricia Bay Squadron, VU-33.

Ships were bound for Seattle on a weekend training cruise with reserve personnel from HMCS Malahat aboard.

The firing promoted a real mystery for several hours during the night because navy sources at first said it was not being done by Canadian ships. However, later they explained that the shooting was a routine exercise announced in naval orders several weeks ago.

PC Strategy Parley

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eighteen Progressive Conservative candidates and their campaign managers met here today to discuss strategy for the June 10 federal election campaign.

ON THE HUSTINGS

Rights Ignored
On Enumeration
Socreds Claim

The Social Credit candidate in Vancouver Centre riding has accused the federal government of failing to safeguard Opposition interests in the upcoming election.

Cyril White said he will consult with CCF and Progressive Conservative officials on the possibility of conducting a joint door-to-door canvass of the constituency to check the voters' list.

"I feel that we must do this because we have been deprived of our right to appoint enumerators to safeguard Opposition interests in the compilation of the Centre voters' list," Mr. White said.

After wiring a protest to Ottawa earlier in the week, the Social Credit candidate has been supported by Progressive Conservative candidate Douglas Jung and CCFer J. W. Dennison.

They claim Opposition enumerators did not get proper written notification from Centre returning officer J. Horace Sinclair.

Mr. Sinclair says he notified every enumerator by writing, giving full instructions. No personal complaint against him has been made by any of the Opposition parties.

(A Vancouver newspaper report said Friday Social Credit has not been able to find enough enumerators and has "borrowed" 50 from the Liberals in Centre, as well as four in Coast-Capilano.)

Tory MP From Calgary Speaks Here

Douglas Harkness, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Calgary, will address a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Conservative Association Wednesday in the Monterey Cafe.

Col. Harkness is coming to Victoria to attend the Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative nominating convention Tuesday night at Royal Oak Hall.

He will speak at the invitation of Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, who is not expected to have any opposition for renomination.

Gen. Pearkes plans to begin his speaking tour of the riding May 6 at Port Renfrew. He will speak in View Royal May 9 and other dates will be announced later.

A number of local Conservative officials will attend a meeting of all provincial candidates and officers in Vancouver Saturday.

A general membership meeting of the Conservative Victoria riding will be held at campaign headquarters at 623 Yates on Monday at 8 p.m.

Jean Paul St. Laurent, campaigning in B.C. for the Liberals, said in Dawson Creek Friday night the Social Credit party is building its entire policy on a false impression. That is that Social Credit will be welcome in Eastern Canada, he said.

Mr. St. Laurent, son of the prime minister and a member of the last parliament, said the Socreds rally in Toronto last week was a failure, not the success it was claimed to be. Since the Liberals came to power in 1935 the prosperity of Canada has increased to a high level, he said, but if Social Credit came to power this prosperity would decline. Other nations would hesitate

College Arts Course

A special committee of the Chamber of Commerce will prepare a brief urging the senate of the University of British Columbia to support the extension of the liberal arts course at Victoria College to four years.

The committee in a report to the chamber directors Friday, felt "no insuperable difficulties existed to prevent Victoria from having a liberal arts college within the next five years."

But the report said there was a need to convince the senate of UBC that there is civic support for a university course at Victoria College.

It added that the present college enrollment justified the extension of the liberal arts program from two to four years. The committee, headed by Capt. G. R. Newell, will prepare a brief outlining Victoria's case for an extended liberal arts course. It will be presented to Dr. Norman MacKenzie, UBC president.

The chamber's university subcommittee was set up two months ago to study plans for the expansion of Victoria College.

It has discussed the matter with Dean Geoffrey Andrew, UBC; Aubrey Roberts, assistant to the president; Arthur Sager, president of UBC Alumni Association, and H. F. Angus, former dean of the faculty.

Marrying 'Yoo-Hoo' Counts Again
—Latest Wife Total Adds Up to 12

CHICAGO (UP)—An unofficial record indicated today that Walter (Yoo Hoo) Yemm, an energetic businessman, had 12 wives.

"I thought there were only nine, but I just happened to remember three more," he told authorities.

Yemm, 47, seemed to recall that he divorced two of his wives.

"Another one, Corinne, I think, called up one day and said she was getting a divorce," Yemm said. "Do you suppose that counts?"

Assistant state's attorney Patrick Egan said Yemm's marital adventures pose a problem.

"We can't figure out which of all these women was his legal wife," Egan said. "And we've got to know that if we're going to prosecute him for bigamy."

Yemm was tripped up when he tried to marry again. The new woman in his life became suspicious and asked police to check.

Detectives uncovered a virtual harem, including Yemm's current spouses, the former Beverly Simms, 31, a typist, and the former Wilma Pyzik, 48, a clerical worker, both of Chicago.

At first Yemm admitted he had six un-divorced wives. Later he rolled off seven names. These, with the two he divorced, made nine. Then he came up with three others.

Detective Amos Mitchell, one of the first to uncover Yemm's antics, said Yemm had a distinct preference to big church weddings.

"He liked to collect the presents," Mitchell said. Resides Beverly and Wilma, Yemm admitted being married to Edith, Betty, Stella, Corrine, Gladys and two women named Mary. The second "Mary" was the wife Yemm "accidentally" remembered.

He said he thought she now was living in Manitoba. Neither Beverly nor Wilma would admit they were willing to return to Yemm.

Helmcken House
Gets Modern
Fire Alarms

The B.C. government is taking no chances with venerable Helmcken House, behind Thunderbird Park, following the destruction by fire of the first legislative building (the Birdcage) last month.

Tirm, white-fronted Helmcken House, built by Dr. J. S. Helmcken in 1852, is now being fitted with a super-duper fire alarm system that will bring the fire engines thundering down the moment any sparks fly.

If the Birdcage had been similarly equipped, it would probably still be standing today. The alarm system at Helmcken House works by air pressure, so that if there is a sudden rise in temperature—by as much as 10 degrees—it will set the bells ringing in local fire halls.

An air pressure tube no more than three-sixteenths in diameter runs around the ceiling and walls of the aged house and is guaranteed to register any sudden heat caused by flames.

"We are now considering extending this system to other government buildings," Percy W. Mackereth, superintendent of works for the B.C. government, said today.

Mr. Mackereth said a major plank in the CCF federal campaign should be compensation coverage or unemployment for persons who are forced off their jobs through illness.

Earlier Friday, Provincial Leader Robert Strachan and President Alex Macdonald indicated a major provincial issue might be the proposal by Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren to develop 40,000 square miles of land in the Rocky Mountain Trench.

Both men said the scheme was a "give-away" and would not give the benefits of natural resources to the people of B.C.

Membership in the party increased 17.3 per cent during the past year, secretary-treasurer Harold Thayer reported.

The party realized a total of $46,800 in 1956, he said, with $17,800 going to local campaign committees and $13,100 to the provincial campaign in the election.

He built the now-famous house for his bride, Cecelia, daughter of Governor Sir James Douglas.

Governor Douglas had already built on the south side of the bay, the first house outside the fort. His son-in-law, Helmcken, received an adjoining acre so that the two families would have mutual protection against any Indian attacks.

Thousands of tourists visit the old house every year and the visitors' book contains signatures from all parts of the world.

He was also Speaker of the House of Assembly of Vancouver Island, which first met in 1956, holding office until Confederation in 1871.

Dr. Helmcken carried on a private medical practice at Helmcken House and continued living there until his death in 1920 at the age of 96.

TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me why the Friday before Easter is called "Good Friday?"

—F.R.R.

A.—The term is probably an early English corruption of "God's Friday." It was called "Long Friday" by the Anglo-Saxons and the Danes, possibly in allusion to the length of the services which marked the day.

Q.—Please advise when those in charge of city parks will repair the flag pole which was damaged by hooligans more than one year ago?—Visitor.

A.—While the damage done to the pole may be offensive aesthetically it is not considered so extensive as to endanger its strength or longevity. No steps are being considered to repair the pole.

Convention
Bureau
For Victoria

A report recommending that a convention bureau be set up under the joint auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Victoria Publicity Bureau was endorsed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday.

The report was submitted by a special chamber committee appointed to study ways to attract the lucrative convention tourist trade to Victoria.

"Studies made to date indicate that convention business looms ever larger in the tourist picture," the committee reported. "In the United States there are some 39,420 conventions held annually."

The report noted that U.S. convention delegates in a year spend more than $3,500,000,000 in transportation, food, lodging and entertainment.

It was felt that the most practical way to attract some of the convention business to Victoria would be through the formation of a convention bureau which would work solely to attract and service conventions in Victoria.

School Bible-Reading
Backed by Educator

Suggestion by a Trail teacher that Bible reading should be eliminated from schools today drew censure from a high education department source and the president of the Victoria Ministerial Association.

Don Sprague told the convention of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation convention in Vancouver that the readings were "not only incomprehensible to primary students but in-comprehensible all the way through."
